CHAPTER 22.

An Act to relieve Revenue Officers from remaining Electoral Disabilities.

[30th June 1874.]

WHEREAS an Act was passed in the session of Parliament holden in the thirty-first and thirty-second years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to "relieve certain officers employed in the collection and management of Her Majesty's "revenues from any legal disability to vote at the election of members to serve in "Parliament:"

And whereas notwithstanding the passing of the said Act certain servants of the Crown in the Revenue departments are still subject, at the suit of informers and others, to certain very severe penalties in relation to elections for members of Parliament, to which penalties other civil servants of the Crown are not subject:

And whereas it is desirable to abolish such penalties:

Be it enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same:

1. The enactments contained in the schedule to this Act, and any enactments reviving or continuing the same or any of the enactments contained in the schedule to the Act of the thirty-second year of Her Majesty, chapter seventy-three, are hereby repealed. Enactments in schedule repealed.

CHAPTER 23.

An Act to amend the Acts regulating the Salaries of Resident Magistrates in Ireland and the Salaries of the Chief Commissioner and Assistant Commissioner of Police of the Police District of Dublin Metropolis.

[30th June 1874.]

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the session of Parliament held in the sixth and seventh years of the reign of King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to con- "solidate the Laws relating to the Constabulary Force in Ireland," (in this Act referred to as "the Act of 1836,") it was (amongst other things) enacted, that every magistrate appointed under the authority thereof should have and receive such salary by the year, not exceeding four hundred pounds, as the Lord Lieutenant or other chief governor or governors of Ireland should think fit: 6 & 7 W. 4. c. 13.

And whereas by an Act passed in the session of Parliament held in the sixteenth and seventeenth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the "Acts regulating the salaries of resident Magistrates in Ireland," (in this Act referred to as "the Act of 1853,") the Act of 1836 was amended, and the Lord Lieutenant or other chief governor or governors of Ireland was and were empowered in the manner thereby prescribed to vary and classify the salaries of the magistrates appointed or to be appointed 16 & 17 Vict. c. 60.
