EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order.)

This Order replaces certain current anti-dumping and countervailing duty Orders. The way in which most of the headings of the Customs Tariff are at present subdivided will be changed with effect from 1st January 1974. This Order takes account of these and other minor drafting changes. The duties are to be chargeable on and after 1st January 1974 on specified goods classified in the relevant tariff headings of the amended Tariff. There is no increase in duty as a result of these changes.

The Order applies section 2 of the Customs Duties (Dumping and Subsidies) Act 1969 to the duties. This section enables relief to be granted where particular goods have not been dumped or the margin of dumping is shown to be less than the amount of duty payable.

Some spent Orders are included among the Orders revoked.
