EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order.)

This Order continues in force up to 30th June 1977 (the end of the transitional period during which the United Kingdom is entitled to charge anti-dumping duties in respect of the goods described in the Order) the Anti-Dumping (Provisional Charge to Duty) (No. 2) Order 1977. The extended Order relates to certain ball bearings and tapered roller bearings and parts originating in Japan and imposes on them a provisional charge in respect of an anti-dumping duty at the rate of 20%, but in the case of goods produced and supplied by the Nachi-Fujikoshi Corporation Japan and Koyo Seiko Company Limited Japan the rate is 10%. The United Kingdom is under a Community obligation to collect the amount of the provisional charge by virtue of Regulation (EEC) 261/77, as extended by Regulation (EEC) 944/77

After 30th June 1977 until 4th August 1977 the provisional anti-dumping duty imposed by the above-mentioned Regulations will be charged under section 5 of the European Communities Act 1972 (C.68).
