(2) For the purposes of this paragraph the expression "before the war" means "during the six months immediately preceding the 3rd day of September, 1939."

MALE LATE ENTRANTS

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph 2 of this Schedule, where a male worker specified in (1) (l) or (1) (m) of the Table in the said paragraph (including such a worker when employed as a jobber but not as a night worker), enters or has entered the trade for the first time between the ages of 17 and 20 years, the general minimum time rate payable to him until he completes 12 months' employment in the trade or until he reaches the age of 20 years, whichever period is the less, shall be that payable to a male worker one year his junior employed on the same work.

NIGHT WORKERS

5.—(1) The general minimum time rate payable to a night worker (which rate is hereinafter referred to as "the night worker's rate") is the rate appropriate to a day worker of the corresponding class and area, as specified in column 1, 2 or 3 of the Table in paragraph 2 of this Schedule, increased by ten per cent.

Provided that—

(2) A night worker is a worker who is employed for not less than a total of three hours between the hours of 7 p.m. on one day and 7 a.m. on the next following day (other than a worker who is only so employed during the night of Friday/Saturday) and the night worker's rate shall be payable to such a worker in respect of that spell of duty or those spells of duty, which include some period or periods between the said hours.

PART III

OVERTIME, WORK ON A CUSTOMARY HOLIDAY AND WAITING TIME

MINIMUM OVERTIME RATES

7.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this paragraph, overtime is payable at the following minimum rates:—

(a) on any day other than a Sunday or customary holiday—

(i) for the first 2 hours worked in excess of 10 hours	Time-and-a-quarter
(ii) thereafter	Time-and-a-half

(b) on a Sunday—

for all time worked between midnight of the preceding day and midnight of the Sunday ... ... Double time

Provided that where in accordance with his usual practice a worker (other than a night worker) works for one hour or less on Sunday afternoon or evening on a preliminary doughing operation he shall be paid the appropriate general minimum time rate.

(c) in any week (exclusive of any time in respect of which any minimum overtime rate is payable under the foregoing provisions of this sub-paragraph and any time worked on a customary holiday)—

(i) in the case of a worker who works for less than 23 hours in the bakehouse and for the remainder of his time on delivery—for all time worked in excess of 52 hours ... Time-and-a-quarter

(ii) in the case of any other worker—

for the first 4 hours worked in excess of 46 hours Time-and-a-quarter

(3) In calculating the time worked in any week for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule a worker who has been allowed, and has taken, a customary holiday or a holiday in lieu of a customary holiday, in that week under a wages regulation (holidays) order shall be treated as having worked 7 hours 40 minutes on any such customary holiday or holiday in lieu of a customary holiday.

WORK ON A CUSTOMARY HOLIDAY

8. The remuneration payable to a worker for work on a customary holiday shall be not less than the amount calculated as follows:—

Circumstances	Calculation of Remuneration
(a) where, under the provisions of a wages regulation (holidays) order, the worker is entitled to and is to be allowed a holiday in lieu of a customary holiday on a day other than a Sunday	Time-and-a-half for all time worked.
(b) where, under the provisions of a wages regulation (holidays) order, it is mutually agreed between the employer and the worker that a holiday in lieu of a customary holiday shall not be allowed to the worker	Time-and-a-half for all time worked on the customary holiday to which such agreement relates and, in addition, an amount equal to the holiday remuneration to which the worker would have been entitled under the provisions of a wages regulation (holidays) order had he been allowed a holiday on that day.
(c) where a worker who is ordinarily employed on a spell of duty which starts before and ends after midnight has been allowed a holiday for the period of 24 hours commencing at noon on the day prior to a customary holiday	Double time for all time worked up to midnight of the spell of duty commencing on the customary holiday.
(d) in any other circumstances ...	Double time for all time worked.

Provided that in the case of a worker who is ordinarily employed on a spell of duty which starts before and ends after midnight the provisions of (a), (b) and (d) of this paragraph shall be applicable to time worked during the period of 24 hours commencing at noon on the day prior to the customary holiday.

WAITING TIME

9.—(1) A worker is entitled to payment of the minimum remuneration specified in this Schedule for all time during which he is present on the premises of his employer, unless he is present thereon in any of the following circumstances:—

(a) without the employer's consent, express or implied;

(b) for some purpose unconnected with his work and other than that of waiting for work to be given to him to perform;

(c) by reason only of the fact that he is resident thereon;

(d) during normal meal times in a room or place in which no work is being done, and he is not waiting for work to be given to him to perform.

(2) The minimum remuneration payable under sub-paragraph (1) of this paragraph to a piece worker when not engaged on piece work is that which would be payable to him if he were a time worker.

PART IV

GUARANTEED WEEKLY REMUNERATION

10.—(1) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Schedule, where in any week the total amount of the minimum remuneration payable to any worker—

(a) under those provisions; and

(b) by way of holiday remuneration under any wages regulation (holidays) order;

would be less than the guaranteed weekly remuneration provided for by this paragraph, the minimum remuneration payable to that worker for that week shall, in lieu of the minimum remuneration which would otherwise be payable under those provisions and that order, be the guaranteed weekly remuneration provided for by this paragraph.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this paragraph, a worker (other than a jobber) who ordinarily works for the employer for at least 36 hours weekly on work to which this Schedule applies shall be entitled to be paid in respect of any week not less than the guaranteed weekly remuneration for 46 hours or, in the case of a worker aged less than 16 years, 44 hours.

Provided that where the worker normally works for the employer on work to which this Schedule applies for less than 46 hours in the week (or less than 44 hours in the case of a worker aged less than 16 years), by reason only of the fact that he does not hold himself out as normally available for work for more than the number of hours he normally works in the week, the guaranteed weekly remuneration shall be for the number of hours in the week normally worked by the worker for the employer on work to which this Schedule applies.

(3) Guaranteed weekly remuneration shall be calculated at the minimum rate or rates ordinarily applicable to the worker in respect of time ordinarily worked by him (excluding overtime, except on Sunday) on work to which this Schedule applies in the following manner, that is to say—

(a) at double time in respect of Sunday work in excess of 4 hours; and

(b) at the night worker's rate in respect of work to which that rate is ordinarily applicable; and

(c) as to any other time, at the general minimum time rate ordinarily applicable to the worker.

Provided that where the ordinary working week of a night worker or of a worker (including a night worker) who ordinarily works overtime on Sunday is less than 46 hours and the worker is not a worker to whom the proviso to sub-paragraph (2) of this paragraph applies, the guaranteed weekly remuneration in respect of a week shall be whichever of the two following amounts is the greater, that is to say—

(i) the amount due in respect of the worker's ordinary weekly working hours calculated in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this sub-paragraph; or

(ii) an amount equal to 46 hours' pay calculated at the minimum rate or rates applicable to a worker of the corresponding class and area who is solely employed on day work other than overtime.

(4) Guaranteed weekly remuneration is not payable in respect of any week unless the worker throughout his normal working hours in that week, excluding any day allowed to him as a holiday, is—

(a) capable of and available for work, and

(b) willing to perform such duties outside his normal occupation as the employer may reasonably require if his normal work is not available in the establishment in which he is employed.

(5) If the employer is unable to provide the worker with work during the worker's normal working hours by reason of a strike, failure of supplies, or any cause beyond the employer's control and gives the worker four clear days' notice that work will not be available, guaranteed weekly remuneration shall not be payable after the expiry of such notice in respect of any week during which or part of which the employer continues to be unable to provide work as aforesaid.

Provided that the guaranteed weekly remuneration payable to a worker in respect of the week in which the said notice expires shall be such proportion of the guaranteed weekly remuneration payable to the worker under the foregoing provisions of this paragraph as the number of the worker's normal working hours on work to which this Schedule applies, falling in that week up to the expiry of the notice, bears to the number of hours in the week normally worked by the worker for the employer on work to which this Schedule applies.

(6) The guaranteed weekly remuneration applicable to a piece worker shall be the sum to which he would be entitled if he were a time worker.

(7) In this paragraph the expression "week" means "pay week."
