C A P. XXII.

An Act to enable Bastards in Scotland to make Testaments. [21st June 1836.]

WHEREAS it is just, humane, and expedient that Bastards or Natural Children in Scotland should have the Power of disposing of their Moveable Estates by Testaments or last Wills: Be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this Act it shall be lawful to Bastards or Natural Children domiciled in Scotland to dispose of their Moveable Estates by Testament or last Will, in like Manner as other Persons belonging to that Country may do; any Law or Practice to the contrary notwithstanding.

Bastards in Scotland empowered to make Testaments.
