EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order.)

This Order amends the Brucellosis Compensation (Scotland) Order 1972 by increasing the maximum limits of compensation which may be paid for cattle slaughtered by the Secretary of State either because they are affected with brucellosis or because they have reacted to a diagnostic test for the disease. The limit for such cattle comprised in an accredited herd is increased from £300 to £342 and the limit for such cattle comprised in other herds from £400 to £456. In respect of cattle slaughtered by the Secretary of State because they have been exposed to the infection of brucellosis, compensation remains payable at full market value.
