Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Co-operation of grand juries for building bridges wholly within one county.

1. In cases where it is proposed to erect a bridge wholly within the limits of any one county, it shall be lawful for the grand jury of any neighbouring county, upon and after application made and approved at presentment sessions for the county at large to consent to co-operate with the grand jury of any such first-named county, for the purposes of the herein-before recited Acts, and to signify such consent by a resolution entered on the record of its proceedings; and thereupon all the provisions of the herein-before recited Acts shall extend and be applicable in like manner as if such bridge was proposed to be erected over a river forming the boundary between the said counties, and all acts and proceedings by the herein-before recited Acts provided shall and may be done, had, and taken accordingly.

The term " county " in this section shall include county of a city and county of a town.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited for all purposes as " The Bridges (Ireland) Act, 1875."
