3. There are increases in the limits of cost permitted for unlicensed work. During the period 1st January, 1954, to 31st December, 1954, work may be done on any property without a building licence if the cost of the work, together with the cost of any previous work carried out on the property without a licence in the period, does not exceed £1,000. For "designated buildings", which may be described generally as industrial buildings and farm buildings other than dwelling houses, the limit is increased to £25,000.
