The Board of Trade, in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by section 36 of the Registered Designs Act, 1949(a), and subsection (5) of section 10 of the Copyright Act, 1956(b), hereby make the following rules:—

Industrial Application of Designs

1. A design shall be taken to be applied industrially for the purposes of section 10 of the Copyright Act, 1956, if it is applied—

(a) to more than fifty articles all of which do not together constitute a single set of articles as defined in subsection (1) of section 44 of the Registered Designs Act, 1949; or

(b) to goods manufactured in lengths or pieces, other than hand-made goods.

Interpretation

2.—(1) Reference in these Rules to the application of a design to any articles or goods means the application of the design to those articles or goods by a process of printing or embossing or by any other process whatsoever, and shall be deemed to include a reference to the reproduction of the design on or in those articles or goods in the course of their production.

Revocation, Citation and Commencement

3.—(1) The Copyright (Industrial Designs) Rules, 1949(b), are hereby revoked.

(2) These Rules may be cited as the Copyright (Industrial Designs) Rules, 1957, and shall come into operation on the 1st day of June, 1957.

Dated this 17th day of May, 1957.

F. J. Erroll,
Parliamentary Secretary
to the Board of Trade.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Rules, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

The marketing of goods to which a design has been applied industrially deprives that design of some of the protection it enjoys as an artistic work under the Copyright Act, 1956. These Rules define the circumstances in which designs are to be taken to be applied industrially.
