CHAP. 74.

An Act to confirm the Award under "The Curragh of Kildare Act, 1868," and for other purposes relating thereto. [9th August 1870.]

31 & 32 Vict. c. 60.

WHEREAS by "The Curragh of Kildare Act, 1868," it was enacted that three commissioners should be appointed to ascertain and decide, amongst others, the following things; namely,

What (if any) rights of common of pasture, rights of way, or other rights (except the rights of the Crown and public rights of way) exist in, over, or affecting the Curragh, or any part thereof, either by grant, charter, or prescription;

To what persons, and for what terms, estates, or interests, the rights aforesaid respectively belong;

What (if any) are the lands in respect of which the rights aforesaid respectively are exerciseable;

What (if any) compensation should be given to any party whose rights are or may be injuriously affected by the said Act; and

What (if any) public rights of way exist in, over, or affecting the Curragh or any part thereof:

And whereas Henry H. Joy, Esquire, one of Her Majesty's counsel, Alexander Stewart, Esquire, and Edmund A. Mansfield, Esquire, were duly appointed the Curragh Commissioners in manner provided by the said Act, and are hereafter referred to by the term "the Commissioners:"

And whereas the Commissioners, having given the necessary notices and taken the steps required by the said Act, proceeded in discharge of their duties as by the said Act directed, and in pursuance of the provisions of the said Act did hold meetings at such places and at such times as they considered most convenient for the accommodation of claimants and suitors, and did hold such a number of meetings in the neighbourhood of the Curragh as were sufficient for hearing local claimants:

And whereas, after hearing all claimants and suitors in manner by the said Act directed, the Commissioners did decide upon all claims made before them:

And whereas no appeal was made by any claimant or objector admitted to be heard before the Commissioners:

And whereas the Commissioners thereupon, in manner by the said Act prescribed, did on the thirtieth day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine duly make their award in duplicate, which award is set forth in the schedule to this Act annexed, and did, in accordance with the provisions of the said Act, on the first day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, present one part of the said award to the chief secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and did deposit the other part with the clerk of the peace for the county of Kildare, and did also publish a copy of such award once in each of three successive weeks next after the making thereof in the Dublin Gazette and in the Leinster Express, a newspaper circulating in the county of Kildare:

And whereas it is provided by the said Act that "the chief secretary to the Lord "Lieutenant shall as soon as conveniently may be after the publication of the said award "take all necessary steps for the confirmation of the same by Act of Parliament, and that "previously to such confirmation the said award shall not be of any validity whatever:"

And whereas it is expedient that the said award should be so confirmed, and further provision made in relation thereto:

May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Award confirmed.

1. The award, a copy of which is set forth in the schedule to this Act annexed, is hereby confirmed, and made effectual to all intents and purposes, and shall be as binding and of the like force and effect as if the provisions of the same had been expressly enacted in this Act.

2. The map referred to in and deposited with the copy of the said award at the office of the clerk of the peace for the county of Kildare on the thirtieth day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, showing the rights of way existing in, over, or affecting the Curragh, shall be deemed to be and shall form part of the said award. Map deposited with award at office of clerk of the peace to be deemed part of the award.

3. No animal other than sheep shall at any time after the passing of this Act depasture on the Curragh, or be turned out to depasture thereon. Sheep only to be depastured.

4. No sheep shall depasture on the Curragh, or be turned out to depasture thereon, unless they be respectively marked in a distinctive manner, and according to such regulations as the ranger may from time to time direct. Sheep to be marked.

5. It shall be lawful for the ranger of the Curragh, by and with the sanction of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to appoint assistant bailiffs (not exceeding four in number) to assist the deputy ranger in the discharge of his duties, and for the protection of the said Curragh, at such salaries and remuneration as may be approved by the said Lords Commissioners of the Treasury. Power to appoint additional bailiffs.

6. The ranger of the Curragh shall, for the purpose of preventing the trespass of animals upon the Curragh, have and may exercise all the same rights as if he were the occupier of the same, and shall, for the purposes of section twenty of "The Summary Jurisdiction (Ireland) Act, 1851," be deemed to be the occupier of the Curragh. Ranger to have power of occupier in relation to trespasses.

7. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Curragh of Kildare Act, 1870." Short title.

SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Act refers.

"Curragh of Kildare Act, 1868."

AWARD OF COMMISSIONERS.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the session of Parliament in the thirty-first and thirty-second years of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to make better provision for the management and use of the Curragh of Kildare," it is enacted that three commissioners should be appointed to ascertain and decide, amongst other things, the following, namely:—

What (if any) rights of common of pasture, rights of way, or other rights (except the rights of the Crown and public rights of way) exist in, over, or affecting the Curragh, or any part thereof, either by grant, charter, or prescription:

To what persons and for what terms, estates, or interests the rights aforesaid respectively belong:

What (if any) are the lands in respect of which the rights aforesaid respectively are exerciseable:

What (if any) compensation should be given to any party whose rights are or may be injuriously affected by the said Act:

We, the Commissioners duly appointed, having taken the necessary steps and given the notices required by the said Act, and having heard and examined the evidence, oral and documentary, produced before us, do make our award, as follows:—

We have in the first schedule hereunto annexed, to be taken and considered as part of this our award, stated the names of the several persons on whose behalf claims have been made before us under the said Act, the townlands (county of Kildare) in which the lands are respectively situate, and in respect of which the claims have been made, the substance of each claim lodged and brought before us, the compensation claimed (if any), and the terms, estates, or interests, and number of acres, Irish plantation measure, in respect of which such claims are made, with our allowance or disallowance, wholly or in part, of such claims respectively.

We find that no rights of persons legally claiming under the said Act are substantially altered, varied, or injurlously affected by the said Act, and as a matter of fact on the evidence adduced before us, that no right to compensation has been established by any of the claimants, either in respect of the site of the camp, or the rifle-ground, or otherwise.

We further find that, from want of proper authority and neglect on the part of those having the care and management of the Curragh, numerous parties have, from time to time, without having any right so to do, pastured sheep on the Curragh, to the prejudice, loss, and injury of those parties who have acquired legal rights to pasture thereon. We find, from the evidence adduced before us, to such an extent has this taken place, that the pasturage of the Curragh has been rendered to a great extent useless, and that many of the persons whose claims to pasture are by this our award allowed have for many years past been deprived of the use of the pasturage on the Curragh, and it does not appear that the persons so deprived ever took any effective steps to remove those who so prejudicially interfered with the pasturage.

We further find that large quantities of sheep manure have been from time to time taken off the Curragh by divers parties without any right or privilege so to do; and that the removal of such manure has practically deteriorated the pasturage of the Curragh to a considerable extent.

We further find on the evidence adduced before us, that the right of use of pasturage for any animals other than sheep is unsustained, and that the pasturage on the Curragh is adapted for sheep only (such pasturage being supplementary to the lands in respect of which same is by this our award allowed); and, for the benefit of those entitled to the enjoyment of pasturage on the Curragh, we award accordingly that such pasturage shall be confined to sheep.

We further award that all persons whose claims of right to the use of a well or pond on the Curragh are by this our award recognised and allowed shall respectively enjoy such right and access to such well and pond in the way and by the means particularly shown in and by a map or plan lodged by us with the clerk of the peace for the county of Kildare.

In pursuance of the provisions of the said Act, and to prevent in future the cutting up and injuring of the pasturage of the Curragh, we prescribe, award, and determine that the specific ways in respect of rights of way (other than public rights of way) in, over, or affecting the Curragh, or any part thereof, shall be in the direction and lines particularly shown in and by the said map or plan so lodged by us in the office of the clerk of the peace for the said county of Kildare; such specific rights of way being those only which we have determined, and do hereby determine, as necessary and proper for convenience of the owners and occupiers of lands in respect of which such rights are exerciseable; and we accordingly award that all rights of way (other than public rights of way) in, over, or affecting the Curragh shall, after this our award, be exerciseable only in, along, or across the specific ways laid out on the said map; and that all ways (other than public ways, and herein-before referred to as such) in, over, or affecting the Curragh, except the specific ways aforesaid, shall be stopped up.

We further award that the tenants and occupiers of the lands in respect of which claims have been made and allowed by this our award are to be considered only as entitled to the common of pasture, rights of way, or other rights by this our award allowed, in right of their several landlords, and so long only as their interests as such tenants and occupiers respectively continue, and that such rights are not transferable apart from the occupation of the lands.

And we do by this our award ascertain and decide that the public rights of way existing in, over, or affecting the Curragh are those mentioned in the second schedule hereunto annexed, and to be taken as part of our award, and particularly shown in the said map.

We further award and determine that there are no other rights in or over the Curragh save those by this our award allowed.

In witness whereof we have this 30th day of June 1869 affixed our signatures hereto.

HENRY H. JOY,
ALEXANDER STEWART,
EDMUND A. MANSFIELD,
} Curragh Commissioners.
