said Commissioners shall deem to be proper; and every such order shall set forth the amount of such loan, the names of the persons to whom or on whose application and on whose security the same has been made, and a description of the lands, premises, and other securities charged therewith. In all cases when the said Commissioners shall have made any such order they shall execute a duplicate thereof under their common seal, and forthwith cause the said duplicate order to be lodged with the registrar of deeds in the office for the registry of deeds in the city of Dublin, and the said registrar and his and their assistants, deputies, or other officers shall register the same in the same manner as any deeds or instruments are registered in the same office, and shall enter a memorial thereof in the abstract books and indexes of and relating to memorials registered and kept in the said office, and shall return such registry in any search made in such registry office: Provided always, that no fees shall be payable in respect of such registration.

Additional provisions as to enforcement of payment of loans.

14. In any proceedings instituted by the Commissioners of Public Works for recovering any money due on account of any loan under this Act, the certificate of the Commissioners as so incorporated as aforesaid under their seal that the sum claimed is due on account of such loan shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated.

It shall be the duty of every grand jury and town council to whom any loan is made under this Act to do all matters and things necessary for providing for the repayment of all moneys due from time to time on account of such loan.

Nothing contained in this section shall be taken to prejudice any proceedings which the Commissioners of Public Works might institute for recovering any sum due to them on account of any loan made under this Act.

Short title.

15. This Act may be cited for all purposes as the Reformatory Institutions (Ireland) Act, 1881.

CHAPTER 30.

An Act to provide for the employment of certain Officers and Clerks by the Commissioners of Customs.

[11th August 1881.]

22 Vict. c. 26.

WHEREAS by the Superannuation Act, 1859, it is enacted that for the purposes of that Act no person thereafter appointed shall be deemed to have served in the permanent Civil Service of the State, unless such person holds his appointment directly from the Crown or has been admitted into the Civil Service with a certificate from the Civil Service Commissioners:

And whereas the directors of the Customs Benevolent Fund have, in pursuance of letters patent, conducted the publication of daily returns of imports and exports known as bills of entry, and on the recent expiration of the letters patent the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Customs have arranged to continue such publication, and desire to employ for that purpose some of the officers and clerks heretofore employed in such publication:

And whereas it is expedient, with a view to the remuneration and superannuation allowance of those officers and clerks, to provide for their admission into the Civil Service:

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Customs (Officers) Act, 1881.

Provision for employment by Customs of officers and clerks heretofore employed on bills of entry.

2. The Commissioners of Her Majesty's Customs with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may take into permanent employment any officer or clerk heretofore employed by the directors of the Customs Benevolent Fund in connexion with the publication of bills of entry, and any officer or clerk so taken into permanent employment shall be deemed to be in the permanent Civil Service of the State in like manner as if he had been admitted into the same with a certificate from the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall be entitled to receive remuneration and superannuation allowance accordingly; and further, shall be entitled, for the purpose of superannuation allowance, to count his past years of continuous service under the said directors as if they were years of service in the permanent Civil Service of the State.

CHAPTER 31.

An Act to continue certain Turnpike Acts, and to repeal certain other Turnpike Acts; and for other purposes connected therewith. [11th August 1881.]

WHEREAS it is expedient to continue for limited times some of the Acts herein-after specified, and to repeal others:

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Schedule 1.

1. The Acts specified in the first schedule annexed hereto shall expire on the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one.

Schedule 2.

2. The Acts specified in the first and second columns of the second schedule annexed hereto shall, to the extent specified in the third column thereof, be repealed on and after the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one.

Schedule 3.

3. The Act specified in the first and second columns of the third schedule annexed hereto shall, to the extent specified in the third column thereof, as from the date specified in the fourth column thereof, be subject to the modifications specified in the fifth column thereof, and shall, to the same extent, be repealed on and after the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, unless Parliament in the meantime otherwise provides.

Schedule 4.

4. The Acts specified in the fourth schedule annexed hereto shall continue in force until the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, and no longer, unless Parliament in the meantime otherwise provides.

Schedule 5.

5. The Acts specified in the fifth schedule annexed hereto shall be repealed on and after the first day of November one thousand
