ANNEX 1

PREPARATORY PILOT ACTION IN THE FISHERIES AND AQUACULTURE SECTOR IN GREECE

1. TITLE

Pilot action in preparation for the integrated Mediterranean programmes (IMP) in the fisheries and aquaculture sector in the parts of Greece covered by the IMP.

2. GENERAL PURPOSE

The purpose of the pilot action is to investigate and try out certain measures whose aim is to improve the productivity of fishing and acquaculture in the parts of Greece covered by the IMP. It will also enable the necessary procedures to be defined for ensuring proper coordination of Community, national and regional authorities in preparing and implementing the IMP; and it will facilitate an expeditious start to the programmes.

The action involves:

— surveys to identify the obstacles to the expansion of fisheries and aquaculture, the priority areas in which action should be taken, the actual requirements and their probable cost,

— projects to test the survey findings.

3. DESCRIPTION AND GENERAL FEATURES OF THE AREA

In view of their nature, the surveys will cover all the areas in Greece covered by the IMP.

The areas where projects will be carried out are indicated below. Project locations may be changed, however, in the light of the survey findings.

4. OPERATIONS

In the period December 1983 to November 1985, the following operations are to be carried out:

(a) coastal shelters for fishing vessels:

— a survey to determine the criteria and priority locations for setting up such shelters and to ascertain the scale of the investment needed and the cost,

— project: setting up a shelter;

(b) aquaculture:

— a survey to determine the criteria and priorities for the selection of lagoons for aquaculture, to identify the biological, water-engineering and technical problems to be resolved in the short run, to design the most appropriate exploitation models and to ascertain the costs,

— project: an aquaculture installation in a lagoon;

(c) processing and marketing:

— a survey to identify existing bottlenecks in this sector, to define and appraise the development options and the associated technological and economic problems; to assess the scale and cost of the necessary investment and to examine the possibility of developing new products, priority being given to the processing and marketing of pelagic fish,

— project: a small ice-making plant and a sales centre;

(d) technical assistance:

— the stationing of 10 technical advisers in fishing ports or with aquaculturists. As such advisers cannot at present be recruited, the first step will be to send 10 candidates for specialized training to prepare them for this work.

5. TIMETABLE

The surveys and training of advisers are to be completed in 1984 and 1985.

6. AUTHORITIES RESPONSIBLE

— For coordination:

Ministry for the National Economy,

— for implementation:
