COMMISSION

COMMISSION DECISION

of 14 June 1996

laying down animal health conditions and veterinary certificates for the importation of fresh poultrymeat from the Czech Republic

(96/387/EC)

THE COMMISSION OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Community,

Having regard to Council Directive 91/494/EEC of 26 June 1991 on animal health conditions governing intra-Community trade in and imports from third countries of fresh poultrymeat [1], as last amended by Directive 93/121/EC [2], and in particular Article 10 (1) b, Article 11 and Article 12 thereof,

Whereas Commission Decision 94/85/EC [3], as last amended by Decision 96/2/EC [4], established a list of third countries, including the Czech Republic, from which the importation of fresh poultrymeat is authorized;

Whereas the Czech Republic is no longer free from Newcastle disease;

Whereas, however, the Czech Republic applies measures to control Newcastle disease which are at least equivalent to those laid down in Council Directive 92/66/EEC [5], as last amended by the Act of Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden;

Whereas it is appropriate on this basis to allow the importation of fresh poultrymeat from the Czech Republic; whereas therefore the animal health conditions and the veterinary certificates must be laid down;

Whereas it is appropriate to restrict the scope of this Decision to poultry species covered by Council Directive 71/118/EEC [6], as amended and updated by Directive 92/116/EEC [7], and, if necessary, to lay down the animal health conditions and veterinary certification for other poultry species in a separate Decision;

Whereas this Decision applies without prejudice to measures taken for poultrymeat imported for other purposes than human consumption;

Whereas the measures provided for in this Decision are in accordance with the opinion of the Standing Veterinary Committee,
