COUNCIL REGULATION (EEC) No 4257/88

of 19 December 1988

applying generalized tariff preferences for 1989 in respect of certain industrial products originating in developing countries

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Economic Community, and in particular Article 113 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission (1),

Having regard to the opinion of the European Parliament (2),

Having regard to the opinion of the Economic and Social Committee (3),

Whereas, in accordance with its offer made within the context of the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD), the European Economic Community opened generalized tariff preferences commencing in 1971, notably in respect of finished and semi-finished industrial products from developing countries; whereas the initial 10-year period of application of this system of preferences expired on 31 December 1980;

Whereas, however, the positive role played by this system in improving access for developing countries to the markets of the preference-giving countries was recognized at the ninth session of the UNCTAD Special Committee on Preferences; whereas it was there agreed that the objectives of the generalized preference scheme would not be fully achieved by the end of 1980, that consequently it should be prolonged beyond the initial period and that an overall review of the system should take place in 1990;

Whereas, therefore, the Community has decided to apply generalized tariff preferences, in the context of the conclusions agreed in UNCTAD in accordance with the intention expressed in the said Committee, in particular by all the preference-giving countries;

Whereas the temporary and non-binding nature of the system means that the offer can be withdrawn wholly or in part at a later date, thus maintaining the possibility of remedying any unfavourable situations which might arise following implementation of the system, including such situations in the African, Caribbean and Pacific States (ACP States);

Whereas, since the extension of its generalized tariff preferences scheme for a second 10-year period (1981 to 1990), the Community has decided to modify one of the fundamental characteristics of it to give the beneficiary countries a more equitable access to the preferential advantages; whereas, in order to attain this, the Community had decided to apply a preferential treatment which takes account of the particular situation of each of the beneficiaries and to proceed to a system of individual tariff ceilings for certain sensitive products; whereas the least-developed countries are not subject to ceilings; whereas, ever since then, the annual adaptations of the Community scheme responds, for the most part, to the double imperative of the differentiation of the preferential advantages and of simplifications; whereas the identification of the products and the countries to treat selectively takes place with regard to the sensitivity of the sectors and to the Community market situation of the products in question as well as consideration of the degree of industrial development and the competitiveness of these countries;

Whereas preferential tariff treatment is applicable to industrial products of Chapters 25 to 49 and 64 to 97 of the Common Customs Tariff, with the exception of products:

— covered by the Treaty establishing the European Coal and Steel Community,

— contained in the list of basic products in part 1 of Annex II,

(1) OJ No C 302, 28. 11. 1988, p. 1.
(2) OJ No C 326, 19. 12. 1988.
(3) OJ No C 318, 12. 12. 1988.

— entitled to exemption from customs duties in the Common Customs Tariff;

Whereas the tariff ceiling arrangements mentioned above must be applied in such a way as to differentiate between products in Annex I; whereas the tariff regimes necessary to implement these arrangements consist, on the one hand, of fixed duty-free amounts and tariff quotas for products originating in the most competitive countries and, on the other hand, by means of ceilings for products in Annex I originating in other less competitive countries;

Whereas the other products covered by this Regulation should as a general rule, be made subject to surveillance for essentially statistical purposes;

Whereas, since the intermediate revision of the scheme for the years 1986 to 1990, the Community has established that:

— the latter responds satisfactorily to the fixed objectives,

— the beneficiary countries continue, however, to use the preferential advantages in an unequal manner,

— the objectives of the scheme have been reached in certain cases by the most competitive beneficiary countries;

Whereas, on the basis of these considerations, the Community has decided:

— to maintain for the second half of the decade the fundamental characteristics of the scheme, notably the grant, within certain limits, of the total suspension of custom duties,

— to accentuate the differentiation of the preferential advantages from which the most competitive countries benefit and to enlarge at the same time the preferential access to the least competitive countries;

Whereas provision should be made to continue in 1989 the process of differentiation begun in 1986 concerning the grant of advantages under the scheme to the more competitive countries — both in terms of market share and export capacity — and whereas it is therefore appropriate to reduce the preferential amounts by 50 % for 12 additional products orginating in those countries, marked with three asterisks in Annex I to this Regulation;

Whereas the criteria to be adopted for such a reduction are based on the competitive capacity of the beneficiary country concerned, this capacity being expressed in the case of a specific product either by this country's participation in the Community's total imports or by the ratio of the preferential volume amount opened for this country to the total Community imports from the same country; whereas, in addition, the level of economic development of the country concerned has also been taken into account; whereas, with regard to the application of the first criterion, a share has been set at 20 % of the 1987 total extra-EEC imports of the product being referred to, while recourse to the second criterion is made where the total imports of the product in question have, in accordance with the mean of the years 1986 and 1987, exceeded by at least 10 times the tariff quota amount; whereas the first criterion applies to seven of the 12 products mentioned above while the second criterion applies to five products;

Whereas the abovementioned reasons that have justified the criteria of competitiveness remain valid and whereas the maintenance of preferential benefit for the most competitive countries is not justified and a redistribution of the supply is necessary; whereas it is appropriate to pursue the differentiation and to initiate the suppression of the preferential benefit for certain countries for six additional products per country, designated by a footnote, meeting the first criterion and which have previously been reduced by 50 %;

Whereas, however, in the multilateral trade negotiations, in accordance with paragraph 6 of the Tokyo Declaration, the Community reaffirmed that special treatment should, whenever possible, be granted to the least developed among the developing countries; whereas, therefore, charges on preferential importations of on products originating in the least developed of the developing countries listed in Annex IV to this Regulation should not be subject to fixed duty free amounts, tariff quotas or Community ceilings;

Whereas to reflect better in the preferential amounts the development of commercial exchange flows of the Community, these amounts must be revised in 1989 with regard to the products of Annex I, with a view to the overall improvement of the system;

Whereas, for the same reasons, the process of revision was extended to the reference bases, taking into consideration the examination of the situation resulting from preferential importations of other products covered by this Regulation; whereas, at the same time, the method of calculation of the abovementioned reference bases has been revised, and for this purpose a percentage of total importations for each of these products into the Community has been taken into account; whereas, according to the new method of calculation, the reference bases for 1989 correspond in general to 6 % of the total imports into the Community in 1987 of each of the products concerned originating in a third country; whereas products subject to reference bases corresponding to 2 % only of the said importations are indicated in part 3 of Annex II;

Whereas such tariff exemptions should be reserved for products originating in the countries or territories under consideration, the concept of 'originating products' being determined by Regulation (EEC) No 693/88 [1];

Whereas the Community preference arrangements applicable to Yugoslavia result exclusively from the Agreement between the Community and the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (1);

Whereas the Republic of Korea does not treat the Community on an equal footing with other trade partners and whereas it has taken discriminatory measures in respect of the Community in the sphere of the protection of intellectual property; whereas, therefore, it is inappropriate that the Republic of Korea should benefit from the scheme of generalized tariff preferences as long as this situation continues;

Whereas, from 1 March 1986, the Kingdom of Spain and the Portuguese Republic shall apply the Community system of generalized preferences, in compliance with Articles 178 and 365 of the Act of Accession;

Whereas, regarding the fixed duty-free amounts given in Annex I, the method of management has been founded until now on an apportionment of most of the amounts between the Member States; whereas the analysis of the utilization of these volumes shows a state of differing situations among the Member States, one or two reaching their individual amounts very quickly, while others disposed of their unused quantities until the end of the exercise; whereas, regarding the fact that they are Community measures and with the view to the achievement of the internal market foreseen by the 'White Paper' for 1992, it is not, in general, appropriate to foresee an apportionment among Member States; whereas the new method of management is open, furthermore, to improve the utilization of the said fixed duty-free amounts in that it allows the covering of the needs there where they are seen; whereas it is appropriate, besides, to foresee the possibility for the Member States to effect drawings by reason of quantities corresponding to their needs;

Whereas, in respect of these fixed duty-free amounts, it is necessary in particular to ensure equal and continuous access for all Community importers and to ensure uninterrupted application of the rate laid down for those quotas to all imports of the products concerned into all the Member States until the amounts are used up; whereas, to this end, and in the context of such an arrangement, the actual charges against the amounts could relate only to products entered for free circulation and accompanied by a certificate of origin;

Whereas, if a considerable balance remains in one of the fixed duty-free-amount shares of one or other Member State, it is essential that that Member State returns it in order to prevent a part of the Community amount from remaining unused in one Member State when it could be used in others;

Whereas according to the case law of the Court of Justice it is illegal to allocate Community quotas among the Member States unless compelling circumstances of an administrative, technical or economic character make it impossible to do otherwise; whereas in addition in cases where allocation is decided upon a mechanism is to be provided so as to protect the integrity of the common customs tariff;

Whereas it is impossible within the brief period before the entry into force of this Regulation for the administrations of the Member States to create the administrative and technical infrastructure required for centralized administration of the quotas for certain industrial products set out in Annex I, it being in particular impossible to synchronize computer programmes between the Member States and the Commission; whereas the technical equipment available to the administrations of the Member States varies from one to another, thus making it uncertain that within the short time available it would be possible to ensure efficient, secure and even-handed administration of the centralized scheme in 1989; whereas it is anticipated that these compelling circumstances will not re-occur in 1990 and thereafter;

Whereas it is appropriate to provide for a protective mechanism by the establishment of a Community reserve of 30 % with a system of automatic transfer from the Member States to the reserve of their allocated shares once the reserve has been used up to the 80 % level;

Whereas for certain products in 1909 the application of the generally accepted principles in respect of the apportionment of the Community tariff quotas which have been opened hitherto cannot be reconciled with the continuity necessary for the application of the tariff preferences concerned; whereas it would accordingly be advisable to adopt on a provisional basis a fixed scale for apportioning the Community tariff quotas concerned among the Member States; whereas, using as a basis general economic criteria relating to external trade, gross national product and population, the percentages for the initial shares of the Member States in the quota amounts are as follows for the quota year under consideration:

Benelux	10,0 %
Denmark	4,6 %
Germany	24,3 %
Greece	1,9 %
Spain	5,9 %
France	17,8 %
Ireland	0,9 %
Italy	15,0 %
Portugal	1,5 %
United Kingdom	18,1 %

Whereas, however, taking into account the more precise information already available concerning trade in certain types of plywood, blockboard, laminboard, battenboard and similar laminated products the abovementioned percentages should be adjusted as follows:

Benelux	4,40 %
Denmark	5,90 %
Germany	7,69 %
Greece	0,19 %
Spain	2,09 %
France	0,30 %
Ireland	2,02 %
Italy	0,86 %
Portugal	0,16 %
United Kingdom	76,40 %

Whereas, to take account of future import trends in the various Member States in respect of the tariff quotas given in Annex I and to mitigate any inadequacy in the initial allocation, the quotas should, as a general rule, be divided into two tranches, the first being apportioned among Member States and the second held as a reserve to cover the subsequent requirements of Member States which have exhausted their initial shares; whereas, moreover, the reserve thus constituted tends to avoid making the system of utilization of the quota excessively rigid, to the detriment of each of the developing countries concerned, and contributes to achieving the aim already mentioned of improving the generalized preferences system; whereas, to this end and to accord importers in each Member State some degree of security, the first tranche of the Community quota should be fixed at about 70 % of the quota volumes;

Whereas if, in the course of the quota period, the Community reserve is almost fully used, it is essential that the Member States return to the said reserve all of the unused part of their shares, in order to ensure that part of a Community tariff quota does not remain unused in a Member State when it could be utilized in others;

Whereas, in the case of the Community tariff ceilings listed in Annex I, the desired objectives may be attained by applying a method of administration based on the charging at Community level, against the abovementioned ceilings, of imports of the products concerned as and when these products are entered for free circulation and are accompanied by a certificate of origin; whereas this method of administration must make provision for the reintroduction of the levying of customs duties, in accordance with the appropriate procedures, as soon as the said ceilings are reached at Community level;

Whereas, having regard to the rules applying to the repayment or remission of import or export duties, and in particular to Council Regulation (EEC) No 1430/79 [1] and Commission Regulation (EEC) No 3040/83 [2], a procedure should be laid down to regularize imports actually made within the fixed duty-free amounts, tariff quotas and/or preferential tariff limits opened under this Regulation, and thus provision should be made for the Commission to be able to take appropriate measures; whereas, in order that these regularizations do not lead to tariff ceilings being considerably exceeded, it is appropriate to foresee at the same time that the Commission can take measures to stop the import charges;

Whereas, in the case of the products other than those listed in Annex I, provision should be made for the possibility of reintroducing the levying of customs duties in exceptional cases and in accordance with appropriate procedures and rules; whereas, taking into account the necessity of initiating the examination of certain economic factors relating to the importations of a specific product, it is appropriate that the reintroduction of the levying of custom duties is preceded by an appropriate exchange of information between the Member States and the Commission and an exchange of views;

Whereas such methods of administration call for close and particularly rapid cooperation between Member States and the Commission; whereas such cooperation should be particularly close in view of the need for the Commission to be able to take appropriate measures to reintroduce the levying of customs duties when any of the ceiling are reached;

Whereas it is necessary to establish complete statistics on imports admitted in accordance with the provisions of the present Regulation and to apply to the collection, preparation and transmission of these statistics Council Regulations (EEC) No 1736/75 [3] and (EEC) No 3367/87 [4];

Whereas, in order to ensure a better transparency of the system, it is necessary to publish both the annual charges recorded against the tariff measures and the tariff ceilings which have reached the 100 % level;

Whereas, for the purposes of applying this Regulation, the rates of conversion into national currencies of the value in ecus in which the preferential amounts are expressed shall be those fixed on the first working day of October 1988 and they shall remain in force from 1 January to 31 December 1989 [5];

Whereas, since the Kingdom of Belgium, the Kingdom of the Netherlands and the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg are united within and jointly represented by the Benelux Economic Union, all transactions concerning, in particular, the administration of fixed duty-free-amount or tariff-quota shares allocated to that economic union may be carried out by any one of its members,

HAS ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

Article 1

1. From 1 January to 31 December 1989 the customs duties of the Common Customs Tariff shall be totally suspended for products covered by this Regulation.

This Regulation applies to products of Chapters 25 to 49 and 64 to 97 of the Common Customs Tariff, with the exception of products:

— covered by the Treaty establishing the European Coal and Steel Community,

— contained in the list of basic products in part 1 of Annex II,

— entitled to exemption from customs duties in the Common Customs Tariff.

For the products of Annex I this tariff suspension shall be accorded within the framework of fixed duty-free amounts, tariff quotas and ceilings. The other products covered by this Regulation shall, as a general rule, be subject to statistical surveillance every three months on the reference base referred to in Article 14.

Spain and Portugal shall apply to the importation of the aforementioned products the customs duties established according to Articles 178 and 365 of the Act of Accession of 1985.

2. The preferences provided for in paragraph 1 shall apply solely:

— to each country or territory listed in column 4 of Annex I, for each of the products or groups of products listed in columns 2 and 3,

— for the same products or groups of products listed in Annex I to every other country or territory listed in Annex III, excepting Yugoslavia, — to each of the countries or territories listed in Annex III, for other products.

As regards Yugoslavia, preference is not granted to products subject to Community tariff ceilings within the framework of the Agreement between the Community and Yugoslavia.

The preferential benefit provided for in paragraph 1 is not applicable to countries listed in footnote (d) to Annex I or to countries listed in part 2 of Annex II for the products specified for those countries.

3. The preferences granted by this Regulation are suspended, on a temporary basis, for products originating in the Republic of Korea.

4. The admittance to the preferential benefit system established by this Regulation is subordinated to the definition of origin of the products which is determined by Regulation (EEC) No 693/88.

5. Fixed duty-free amounts, tariff quotas, Community tariff ceilings and other tariff limits, shall be administered in accordance with the provisions set out below.

SECTION I

Provisions concerning the administration of fixed duty-free amounts relating to products listed in Annex I

Article 2

The total suspension of customs duties within the framework of the fixed duty-free amounts referred to in Article 1 (1) shall be granted to each country or territory listed in column 4 of Annex I, for the products specified in columns 2 and 3 against the name of the country or territory concerned, together with details in column 5 of the amount of the individual quota.

Article 3

The fixed duty-free amounts shall be administered by the Commission.

If an importer presents in a Member State a declaration of entry into free circulation, including a request for preferential benefit for a product, accompanied by a certificate of origin and subject to a fixed duty-free amount, and if this declaration is accepted by the customs authorities, the Member state concerned shall draw, by means of notification to the Commission, a quantity corresponding to its needs.

The requests for drawing, with the indication of the date of acceptance of the said declarations, must be communicated to the Commission without delay.

The drawings are granted by the Commission following the date of acceptance of the declaration of entry into free circulation by the customs authorities of the Member State concerned, to the extent that the balance of the said amount permits.

If a Member State does not use the quantities drawn, it shall return them as soon as possible to the corresponding amount.

If the quantities requested corresponding to a certain date are greater than the available balance of the fixed duty free amount, allocation shall be made on a pro rata basis with respect to the requested quantities. Member States shall be informed by the Commission of the drawings made.

Article 4

1. The Commission shall keep account of the quantities drawn by the Member States conforming to Article 3 and shall inform each of them as soon as it receives notification of the exhausting of the volumes opened. It shall ensure that the drawing which uses up any of these amounts is limited to the balance available and, to this end, specify the amount to the Member State which proceeds to the last drawing.

The fact that the fixed amounts have been used shall forthwith be brought to the notice of Member States. This communication shall be the subject of a publication in the Official Journal of the European Communities ('C' Series).

2. The Member States shall take all the appropriate measures to ensure that the drawings that they effect pursuant to Article 3 may be charged without interruption against the fixed duty-free amounts.

Each Member State shall guarantee free access to these amounts to the importers of the products in question as far as the balance of the volumes opened permits.

Article 5

By 28 February 1990 at the latest, Member States shall notify the Commission of the final total of the quantities charged at 31 December 1989. Up to the limit of the balance remaining, and at the request of the Member States, the Commission shall authorize the Member States to make any necessary regularization of the quantities charged against imports actually made during the period referred to in Article 1 (1). The Commission shall inform the other Member States thereof.

SECTION II

Provisions concerning the administration of the Community tariff quota relating to products listed in Annex I

Article 6

The total suspension of customs duties within the framework of the Community tariff quotas referred to in Article 1 (1) tariff duties shall be granted to each country or territory listed in column 4 of Annex I, for the products specified in columns 2 and 3 against the name of the country or territory concerned, together with details in column 5 of the amount of the individual quota.

Article 7

1. A first tranche of 70 % of each of the Community tariff quotas listed in Annex I shall be apportioned among the Member States; the shares for each Member State shall, subject to Article 9 be valid until 31 December 1989 and shall be those indicated in column 6 of Annex I against each product subject to quotas listed therein.

2. The second tranche of each of the tariff quotas shall constitute the reserve.

Article 8

Where a Member State has used all of its quota share it draws on the reserve in accordance with the procedures laid down in Article 3 relating to fixed duty-free amounts.

Article 9

1. Once at least 80 % of the reserve of one of the tariff quotas, as defined in Article 7 (2), has been used up, the Comission shall inform the Member States thereof.

2. It shall also notify Member States in this case of the date from which drawings on the Community reserve must be made according to the provisions laid down in Article 3 relating to fixed duty-free amounts.

3. Within a time limit fixed by the Commission as from the date referred to in paragraph 2, Member States shall be required to the reserve all the quantities which have not been used on that date, within the meaning of Article 17 (2).

Article 10

The Member States shall take all appropriate measures to ensure free access to the shares which have been allocated to them for importers of the products in question who are established in their territory.

Article 11

By 28 February 1990 at the latest, Member States shall notify the Commission of the final total of the quantities charged and any balance of the shares still unused at 31 December 1989. Up to the limit of the balance remaining, and at the request of the Member States, the Commission shall authorize the Member States to make any necessary regularization of the quantities charged against imports actually made during the period referred to in Article 1 (1). The Commission shall inform the other Member States thereof.

SECTION III

Provisions concerning the administration of the Community tariff ceilings relating to products listed in Annex I and the reference base relating to products other than those listed in Annex I

Article 12

Subject to Articles 13 and 14 the preferential tariff ceiling arrangements shall be accorded for products in Annex I, to each of the countries or territories listed in Annex III, other than those listed in column 4 and Yugoslavia. The limits of these ceilings are specified in column 7 against each product or group of products.

Article 13

As soon as the individual ceilings, as fixed in accordance with Article 12 and which are laid down for imports into the Community of products originating in any of the countries or territories referred to in Article 1 (2), are reached at Communtiy level, the levying of customs duties on imports of the products in question originating in each of the countries and territories concerned may be reintroduced until the end of the period referred to in Article 1 (1).

Article 14

Where the preferential importation of products other than those listed in Annex I, originating in one or more beneficiary countries, causes or threatens to cause economic difficulties in the Community, or in a region of the Community, the levying of customs duties may be reintroduced, once the Commission has had an appropriate exchange of information and an exchange of views with the Member States.

The reference base to be considered when examining the situation underlying the damage shall be, as a general rule, equal to 6 % of the total imports into the Community, originating from third countries in 1987.

Article 15

1. The Commission shall reintroduce the levying of customs duties in respect of any of the countries or territories referred to in Article 1 (2), under the conditions laid down in Articles 13 and 14, by means of a Regulation.

In the case of such reintroductions, Spain and Portugal shall reintroduce the levying of customs duties that they shall apply to third countries on the date in question.

2. By means of a Regulation, the Commission may, even after 31 December 1989, take measures to stop quantities being charged against one or other preferential tariff limit, if, particularly as a result of regularizations of imports actually made during the period referred to in Article 1 (1), these limits are exceeded.

The Member State which makes such regularization shall communicate the figures of import charges relating to this as and when it occurs to the Commission. The Commission, on receiving these communications, shall inform the other Member States thereof.

Article 16

Articles 13, 14 and 15 shall not apply to the imports in question originating in the countries set out in Annex IV.

SECTION IV

General provisions

Article 17

1. For the purposes of the application of this Regulation, the rates of conversion into national currencies of the value in ecus in which the preferential amounts are expressed shall be those fixed on 3 October 1988 and they shall remain in force from 1 January to 31 December 1989.

2. The Member States shall charge the imports of the products in question against their shares of the fixed duty-free amounts as or of the tariff quotas and when they are entered for free circulation on the basis of the customs value of the said products, accompanied by a certificate of origin in accordance with the rules laid down in Article 1 (4).

3. Imports of the products in question shall be charged against import ceilings or other preferential tariff limits as and when the products are entered for free circulation, on the basis of the customs value of the said products, accompanied by a certificate of origin in accordance with the rules laid down in Article 1 (4).

4. Goods may be charged against a ceiling or other preferential tariff limit or admitted under a quota share only if the certificate of origin referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 is submitted before the date on which the levying of duties is reintroduced.

5. The extent to which the fixed duty-free amounts, tariff quotas, ceilings or other preferential tariff limits have been used up shall be determined at Community level on the basis of the imports charged in accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3.

Article 18

1. The Member States shall, within six weeks of the end of each quarter at the latest, forward to the Statistical Office of the European Communities the relevant statistical data for the products entered for free circulation in the quarter concerned under generalized preferential treatment in accordance with the provisions of the present Regulation. This data, transmitted according to the codes of the combined nomenclature and, where applicable of the Taric, shall show the country of origin, value, quantity and any supplementary units as defined by Regulations (EEC) No 1736/75 and (EEC) No 3367/87.

2. However, in the case of products in Annex I subjects to quotas, the Member States shall, by the 11th day of each month at the latest, forward the list of charges effected during the previous month.

In the case of products in Annex I subject to ceilings, the Member States shall forward to the Commission, at its request and under the same conditions, the list of charges effected during the previous months.

At the Commissions's request, when the level of 75 % of the ceiling is reached, the Member States shall forward to the Commission the lists of charges every 10 days; these lists shall be forwarded within five days from the end of each 10-day-period.

3. The Commission shall ensure the publication in the Official Journal of the European Communities ('C' Series) of the tariff ceilings as and when they reach 100 % utilization.

It shall see that the Statistical Office of the European Communities ensures the publication of the annual state of import charges.

Article 19

The Member States and the Commission shall cooperate closely to ensure that this Regulation is complied with.

Article 20

This Regulation shall enter into force on 1 January 1989.

This Regulation shall be binding in its entirety and directly applicable in all Member States.

Done at Brussels, 19 December 1988.
