(1) OJ No L 356, 24. 12. 1991, p. 17.

ANNEX I

A succinct explanation of the calculation of the final reference amounts for producers of oil-seeds in the 1992/93 marketing year

An observed reference price, which represents the average price recorded on the world market during the 1992/93 marketing year, has been determined separately for each oil-seed.

These observed reference prices have been calculated using quotations and executed transaction prices, expressed on a Rotterdam equivalent basis, for bulk consignments of oil-seeds delivered in representative portareas. The prices and quotations were recorded during the period July 1992 to January 1993. Wherever possible, account was taken of both the current month and the term delivery prices of the transactions and quotations.

The values of the observed reference prices are such taht no adjustment of the projected regional reference amounts, pursuant to the provisions of Article 3 (4) of Regulation (EEC) No 3766/91, is necessary.

The latest estimates of the areas of eligible oil-seed sowings have been calculated.

The sizes of the areas calculated are such that no adjustment of the projected regional reference amounts, pursuant to the provisions of Article 6 (2) of Regulation (EEC) No 3766/91, is necessary.

For the 1992/93 marketing year the final regional reference amounts are confirmed as being of the same value as the projected regional reference amounts, and are set out in Annex II.
