EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

The First Schedule to the Factories (Examination of Plant) Emergency Order, 1941, specifies various classes of plant or machinery (including lifting plant and machinery, steam boilers, and steam and air receivers) and certain provisions of the Factories Act, 1937(d) and of the Shipbuilding Regulations, 1931(e) and of the Docks Regulations, 1934(f) which require the periodic examination of such plant or machinery.

Subject to the conditions therein specified, the Order of 1941 enables the respective periods within which such examinations have to be made to be extended by periods varying from three to six months upon the issue of a certificate by a firm, company or association which undertakes the periodic examination of plant or machinery of the class in question.

The purpose of the present Order is to revoke the Order of 1941 on 1st October, 1951, so that no certificate under that Order can postpone an examination beyond 30th September, 1951.
