Citation, interpretation and commencement

1. These regulations, which may be cited as the Family Income Supplements (General) Amendment Regulations 1977, shall be read as one with the Family Income Supplements (General) Regulations 1971(c), as amended(d) (hereinafter referred to as " the principal regulations ") and shall come into operation in the case of regulations 1 and 2(2) on 28th March 1977 and in the case of regulation 2(1) on 5th April 1977.

Amendment of the principal regulations

2.—(1) In regulation 2 of the principal regulations (computation of normal gross income of members of a family) after sub-paragraph (f) of paragraph (5) there shall be added the following sub-paragraph:—

" (g) the whole of any sum by way of benefit under the Child Benefit Act 1975(e)."

(e) 1975 c. 61.

(2) For paragraphs (3) and (4) of regulation 3 of the principal regulations (claims made during a transitional period) there shall be substituted the following paragraphs:—

"(3) Subject to the provisions of the next succeeding paragraph, where a regulation has been made in exercise of powers conferred by section 2(1), 3(1), 3(1A) or 3(4) of the Act (as amended by paragraphs 3 and 4 of Schedule 4 to the Child Benefit Act 1975) (powers to make regulations specifying the prescribed amounts and the weekly rates of family income supplement) and a claim is made on or after the date on which the statutory instrument containing that regulation has been made but before the date on which that regulation comes into operation, benefit shall be payable on that claim from and including the date on which that regulation comes into operation if—

(a) at the time of the claim, benefit is not payable for the family in respect of whom the claim is made but would have been payable in accordance with the provisions of that regulation, had that regulation been in operation on the date on which the claim was made; and

(b) the period beginning with the date on which the claim is made and ending immediately before that regulation comes into operation does not exceed 56 days.

(4) On any claim such as is specified in paragraph (3) of this regulation, the period for which benefit is payable on the claim shall expire on the date on which it would have expired had benefit been payable for a period beginning with the date on which the claim was made.

(5) Where during a period during which benefit is payable for a family—

(a) a regulation made in exercise of powers conferred by section 2(1), 3(1), 3(1A) or 3(4) of the Act has or will come into operation; and

(b) that regulation, had it been in operation on the date on which the claim was made in respect of which benefit is payable for that family, would have entitled that family to benefit at a higher rate than the rate at which it is payable,

the rate at which benefit is payable for that family shall be with effect from and including the date on which the regulation has or will come into operation, the said higher rate."

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations.)

These Regulations further amend the Family Income Supplements (General) Regulations 1971 (" the principal regulations ") by adding a provision in regulation 2 (computation of normal gross income of members of a family) for the complete disregard of child benefit from 5th April 1977.

Paragraphs (3) and (4) of regulation 3 of the principal regulations have been substituted by 3 paragraphs which now provide that if a claim for benefit is made after a regulation under section 2 or 3 of the Family Income Supplements Act 1970 (Computation Regulations) is made but before it comes into operation, the transitional provisions (enabling certain claimants to obtain benefit) will apply provided the claim is made not more than 56 days before that regulation comes into operation and will also enable certain claimants to obtain benefit at a higher rate from the date on which that regulation comes into operation.
