CHAPTER 35.

An Act to amend so much of "The Friendly Societies Act, 1875," as relates to quinquennial returns of sickness and mortality. [10th August 1882.]

A.D. 1882.

WHEREAS by section fourteen of the Friendly Societies Act, 1875, every registered society is required, within six months after the expiration of every five years, to send to the registrar a return to be called the quinquennial return of the sickness and mortality experienced by the societies during the said five years, and an abstract of such return is to be laid before Parliament: 38 & 39 Vict. c. 60.

And whereas the returns sent in pursuance of the said section have furnished materials for the construction of tables of sickness and mortality for the guidance of friendly societies, and it is inexpedient to impose any longer on friendly societies the burden of sending the said returns:

And whereas it is expedient to repeal the said requirement:

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as the Friendly Societies (Quinquennial Returns) Act, 1882. Short title.

2. So much of section fourteen of the Friendly Societies Act, 1875, and of Schedule Two to that Act, as relates to sending to the registrar every five years a return to be called a quinquennial return of the sickness and mortality experienced by the society, or as relates to such return, is hereby repealed. Repeal of 38 & 39 Vict. c. 60. s. 14. so far as relates to the quinquennial return.
