CHAPTER xii.

An Act to incorporate a Company for establishing and holding Markets and Fairs, and making Approaches thereto, in the borough and parish of Frome in the county of Somerset; and for other purposes. [8th June 1874.] A.D. 1874.

WHEREAS markets and fairs have for many years past been held in the borough and parish of Frome in the county of Somerset, and the substitution for such markets and fairs of markets and fairs under parliamentary authority, with proper regulations and management, and an improved market place, market house, and other buildings and conveniences connected therewith, and approaches thereto, would be of local and public advantage:

And whereas the lord of the manor of Frome Town holds and enjoys all the tolls derived from the existing markets and fairs held in the Frome Town Manor, and it is expedient that the Company to be incorporated by this Act should be authorised to purchase the same from him, and that he should sell the same to such Company as herein-after provided:

And whereas the several persons herein-after named, with others, are desirous of effecting the objects aforesaid, and it is expedient to incorporate them into a Company, and to confer upon the Company the powers necessary for the purposes and objects aforesaid:

And whereas it is expedient that the markets and fairs held and the tolls taken within the said borough and parish should be subject to the provisions of this Act:

And whereas plans showing the lands to be taken for the purposes of this Act, and books of reference to those plans, containing the names of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and of the occupiers of those lands, have been deposited with the clerk of the peace for the county of Somerset at his office, and those plans and books of reference are in this Act referred to as the deposited plans and books of reference:

A.D. 1874.

And whereas the purposes of this Act cannot be effected without the authority of Parliament:

May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:
