EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations revoke the Further Education Teacher's Qualifications (England) Regulations 2007 ("the 2007 Regulations") together with amending Regulations. The 2007 Regulations apply to teachers employed in further education institutions on or after 1st September 2001. Subject to limited exceptions, the 2007 Regulations—

(a) prohibit people from teaching in a further education institution unless they hold a Preparing to Teach Award or its equivalent;

(b) prohibit people from teaching in a further education institution unless they hold a specified qualification, or its equivalent; and

(c) allow teachers time in which to comply with the relevant requirements.

With the revocation of these Regulations it will no longer be compulsory for teachers to obtain these qualifications before they are employed by a further education institution.

An impact assessment has not been prepared for these Regulations as they will have no impact on the costs of business, charities or the public sector. The Explanatory Memorandum is published alongside the Regulations on www.legislation.gov.uk.
