EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These Regulations amend the School Health Service Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1948 in three respects.

For the provisions requiring health authorities to undertake three general examinations of school children at stated ages, they substitute a more general provision which will enable health authorities, subject to the direction or approval of the Ministry, to adopt more flexible arrangements for supervising the health of school children.

They revoke Regulation 11 of the 1948 Regulations (which relates to the safe-keeping and confidentiality of records of the medical and dental condition of school children) to enable necessary information to be given in the interests of individual children to the new Youth Employment Service Board and to teachers, nurses and others concerned with the well-being of the child.

They also enable health authorities to submit new schemes to the Ministry incorporating any modified arrangements which they may wish to make in pursuance of Regulation 4.
