EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

This Order provides for the relief from protective duty chargeable under the Import Duties Act, 1958, of herrings imported or (within certain limits) purchased after importation for conversion into meal and oil.

1959 No. 1893

The Import Duty Reliefs (No. 2) Order, 1959

Made - - - -	10*th November*, 1959
Laid before the House of Commons	13*th November*, 1959
Coming into Operation	16*th November*, 1959

The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by virtue of the powers conferred on them by sections five and thirteen of the Import Duties Act, 1958(a), and of all other powers enabling them in that behalf, on the recommendation of the Board of Trade hereby make the following Order :—

1. For the purposes of subsection (3) of section five of the Import Duties Act, 1958 (under which goods of any prescribed description are exempt from import duty if imported for use in the construction or repair of the boilers or propelling machinery of ships), the prescribed descriptions of goods shall, in addition to those specified in the Schedule to the Import Duty Reliefs (No. 1) Order, 1958(b), include the following, that is to say—parts of the mechanism and controls for varying the pitch of controllable pitch propellers.

2.—(1) This Order may be cited as the Import Duty Reliefs (No. 2) Order, 1959.

(2) This Order shall come into operation on the sixteenth day of November, nineteen hundred and fifty-nine.

Dated this tenth day of November, 1959.

Michael Hughes-Young,
J. D. Gibson-Watt,
Two of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

This Order adds certain parts of controllable pitch propellers to the descriptions of goods which are exempt from import duty when imported for use in the construction or repair of ships' boilers or propelling machinery.
