EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These regulations amend the Improvement of Livestock (Licensing of Bulls) (Scotland) Regulations 1952 to 1961.

Fees for licences to keep bulls, and for permits to keep bulls for zoological or experimental purposes, if they allow breeding, are increased from 5s. to £2 2s. per bull, and fees for referees' inspections are increased from £2 2s. to £5 5s. with certain reductions where more than one bull is available for inspection at the same time. There are a number of minor and consequential changes, including amendments to the prescribed forms. The fee for a permit which prohibits breeding remains unchanged at 5s.

The Improvement of Livestock (Licensing of Bulls) (Scotland) Amendment Regulations 1963 providing for increases of fees, which were not put into effect are revoked and the substance of their provisions incorporated in these regulations.
