orders) which are not otherwise applicable shall apply in relation to any inferior court in England and Wales other than a county court as they apply in relation to a county court:

And Whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for the application of certain provisions of Part IV of the Act to the Court of Passage of the City of Liverpool (hereinafter referred to as the Liverpool Court of Passage) and the Salford Hundred Court of Record (hereinafter referred to as the Salford Hundred Court):

Now, therefore, Her Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1. Sections 36 and 38 of the Act shall apply in relation to the Liverpool Court of Passage and sections 35, 36 and 38 shall apply in relation to the Salford Hundred Court as those sections respectively apply in relation to a county court.

2. The Interpretation Act, 1889(a), shall apply to the interpretation of this Order as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

3. This Order may be cited as the Administration of Justice (Local Courts) Order, 1957, and shall come into operation on the first day of April, 1957.

FIRST SCHEDULE

THE ISLE OF MAN (CUSTOMS) RESOLUTION, 1957

At a Tynwald Court holden at Douglas on the 18th day of June, 1957

RESOLVED THAT:—

1. On and after the tenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-seven:—

(a) the rates of the duty of customs imposed by subsection (1) of section four of the Act of 1930, on hydrocarbon oils removed or imported into the Isle of Man; and

(b) the rates of the rebate allowed under subsection (2) of the said section four;

shall, instead of being the rates respectively specified in paragraph 3 of the Isle of Man (Customs) (No. 2) Resolution, 1956 (which increased the rates of duty and rebate by one shilling a gallon) be those rates respectively specified in section one of the Act of 1952; and the rate of the duty of customs imposed by section three of the Act of 1938 on certain methylated spirits (which by virtue of section three of the Act of 1952 depends on one of the rates for the time being of the duty of customs imposed by the said section four) shall be decreased accordingly.

2. In lieu of the duty of customs imposed by paragraph 4 of the Isle of Man (Customs) (No. 2) Resolution, 1956, on petrol substitutes, there shall, on and after the tenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-seven, until the first day of September, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, be payable on the removal or importation into the Isle of Man of petrol substitutes (as defined by the said paragraph 4) made in Great Britain or Northern Ireland, a duty of customs at the rate of one shilling and three pence a gallon.

3.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this paragraph, the duties of customs imposed on goods removed or imported into the Isle of Man, being goods of the descriptions set out in the first column of the following Table, by the respective Isle of Man (Customs) Acts and Isle of Man (Customs) Resolution set out in the second column of that Table, shall continue to be payable until the first day of September, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight:—

(3) Where any enactment set out in the second column of the foregoing Table confers power on the Governor to make orders varying or repealing the duties of customs payable on the goods referred to in that enactment or imposing a new duty on such goods, the provisions of that enactment relating to the said power shall continue in force until the first day of September, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, and the foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall have effect subject to any orders made in pursuance of any such power (whether before or after this resolution is confirmed under the Act of 1955) which are for the time being in force.

4.—(1) This Resolution may be cited as the Isle of Man (Customs) Resolution, 1957.

(2) In this Resolution and in any future Resolution relating to customs in the Isle of Man—

(a) the expression "the Governor" shall mean the Lieutenant Governor of the Isle of Man;

(b) a reference to an Act of any year shall be deemed to be a reference to the Isle of Man (Customs) Act of that year;

(c) a reference to the second Act of 1932 shall be deemed to be a reference to the Isle of Man (Customs) (No. 2) Act, 1932.

FURTHER RESOLVED THAT:—

It is expedient that the Isle of Man (Customs) Resolution, 1957, should, if confirmed under the Act of 1955, take effect as part of the law concerning customs duties in the Isle of Man.

SECOND SCHEDULE

THE ISLE OF MAN (CUSTOMS) (NO. 2) RESOLUTION, 1957

At a Tynwald Court holden at Douglas the 10th day of July, 1957

RESOLVED THAT:—

1.—(1) If an order is made by the Board of Trade under section two or three of the Customs Duties (Dumping and Subsidies) Act, 1957, imposing a duty of customs on any description of goods, or making provision for relief from a duty imposed under that Act, the Governor may by order make corresponding provision as respects goods imported or removed into the Isle of Man: Provided that any order made by the Governor as aforesaid shall lapse after a period of three months from the date thereof unless earlier confirmed by a resolution of Tynwald.

(2) Any order made by the Governor as aforesaid may apply for the purposes of the order, with or without modifications, any provisions of the said Act or of any regulations made by the Board of Trade under that Act.

(3) Where the Board of Trade vary or revoke any order made by them under section two or three of the said Act, any corresponding order made by the Governor as aforesaid may be similarly varied or revoked by a further order made by him.

(4) Any duty chargeable on goods under an order made by the Governor as aforesaid shall be charged in addition to any other duty chargeable thereon and, notwithstanding the provisions of any enactment (including, unless the contrary is expressly provided, any future enactment) the charge of duty under such order shall not affect liability to duty chargeable under any other enactment or the amount of any such duty.

(5) Section two hundred and fifty-nine of the Customs and Excise Act, 1952 (which relates to the charge of duty on manufactured or composite goods), shall not apply to a duty chargeable under the order made by the Governor as aforesaid.

(6) The Commissioners of Customs and Excise may exercise in the Isle of Man the powers conferred on them by section five of the Customs Duties (Dumping and Subsidies) Act, 1957 (which empowers them to require information from importers) as if any reference therein to importer included a reference to a person removing goods to the Isle of Man.

2.—(1) If in exercise of a power conferred on it by any enactment passed during the current session by the Imperial Parliament for the purpose of amending or extending section two hundred and fifty-nine of the Customs and Excise Act, 1952 (which relates to the charge of duty on manufactured or composite goods), and for purposes connected therewith, the Treasury makes an order appointing the date from which such enactment is to have effect, the said enactment shall, subject to the provisions of this Resolution, apply to the Isle of Man as from the date so appointed and have effect therein as though this Island were part of the United Kingdom.

(2) Any power conferred on the Treasury by the aforesaid enactment to make orders directing the manner in which any duty shall be charged or drawback calculated (including power to vary or revoke any such order) shall be exercised in the Isle of Man by the Governor who, in relation to any duty chargeable or drawback allowable in this Island, may make orders (with such modifications as may be necessary) to correspond with any such orders made by the Treasury: Provided that so much of the aforesaid enactment as relates to resolutions of the House of Commons shall not apply to the Isle of Man.

3. This Resolution may be cited as the Isle of Man (Customs) (No. 2) Resolution, 1957.

FURTHER RESOLVED THAT:—

It is expedient that this Resolution shall if confirmed under the Act of 1955 take effect as part of the law concerning customs duties in the Isle of Man.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

This Order, which is made under the Isle of Man (Customs) Act, 1955, confirms resolutions of the Court of Tynwald which

(a) confirm the reduction of the rates of customs duties (as temporarily increased) on hydrocarbon oils and petrol substitutes imported or removed into the Isle of Man to correspond with the rates applicable in the United Kingdom;

(b) continue the customs duties on certain goods which in the Isle of Man it is customary to impose from year to year;

(c) make provision for a preferential rate of duty on hop oil to correspond with the rate applicable in the United Kingdom;

(d) make provision for the calculation of duty on composite goods and matters connected therewith to correspond with provisions in the Finance Bill of the United Kingdom; and

(e) make provision for the imposition of customs duties on goods imported or removed into the Isle of Man to correspond with any customs duties levied in the United Kingdom under the Customs Duties (Dumping and Subsidies) Act, 1957.
