making of the current rate to the date of the last-mentioned entry) in like manner and subject to the like penalty of distress and with the like power of appeal as if he had been assessed for the same when such general district rate was made and the power to rate owners instead of occupiers in certain cases and the provision as to the assessment of certain property on a reduced estimate and other the provisions of section 211 of the Public Health Act 1875 shall so far as the same are applicable apply to the assessment authorised by this Act.

(3.) For the purpose of every such valuation the valuer with his assistants may by warrant of the Council signed by the mayor and sealed with the corporate seal at all reasonable hours until the same is completed enter and survey all and every part of the property to be valued and do any act or thing necessary for the making of such valuation and the valuer may accept any valuation tendered to him which he may consider just and true.

(4.) If any person think himself aggrieved by any rate or assessment made on the basis of any valuation made under the provisions of the last preceeding sub-section he may at the first practicable meeting of the Corporation held after the publication of such rate after giving three days' notice in writing to the Corporation or as regards any railway or canal company at the first meeting of the Corporation held not earlier than twenty-one clear days after notice in writing to such company of the making of such rate apply to the Corporation for relief and they may grant such relief as they may think right and may amend such rate or assessment accordingly and if any such person think himself aggrieved by the determination of the Corporation he may appeal to the next practicable court of quarter sessions under and according to the provisions of the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

Corporation and owners may agree as to amount of assessment on tenements.

89. In cases in which the Corporation are entitled if they think fit to rate the owner instead of the occupier in respect of tenements whether occupied or unoccupied the Corporation and such owner may agree as to the amount of the reduced estimate of the net annual value on which the assessment may be made.

As to rates in added area between 31st October 1891 and 31st March 1892.

90. If at the commencement of this Act the current rates levied by the respective local authorities (including in that expression for the purposes of this section the local board) are insufficient for the needs of that part of the district of such local authority which is added to the borough for the period which will elapse between the thirty-first day of October one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one and the thirty-first day of March one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two the Corporation may make and levy on such part a general district rate after such a rate as shall be necessary to make up the deficiency :

And in like manner if at the commencement of this Act the general district rate or any other rate levied by the Corporation for the current year be insufficient for the needs of the existing borough the Corporation may and shall make and levy a general district rate on the existing borough after such a rate as shall be necessary to make up the deficiency.

As to rating in added area.

91. For the period of ten years from the commencement of this Act the rateable values of all properties in the added area for the purpose of assessing all rates thereon shall not exceed the rateable values fixed and ascertained by the valuation lists in force in the respective parishes or places comprised in the added area at the commencement of this Act or if there be no such lists in any such parish or place then by the rate for the relief of the poor of such parish or place made next before the commencement of this Act except that in the case of any such property which at any time during that period is altered so as to increase the gross estimated rental thereof the rateable value thereof may thereupon be raised in proportion to any such increase.
