CHAP. 39.

An Act to amend the Metropolitan Building Act, 1855, by adding to the exemptions from Part I. of the Act the Buildings of the New Foreign Cattle Market on the site of Deptford Dock. [13th July 1871.]

A.D. 1871.

WHEREAS the mayor, aldermen, and commons of the city of London (herein-after called the Corporation) have undertaken to carry out the provisions of Part III. of the Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1869, and have for that purpose purchased from the Lords of the Admiralty the site of Deptford Dockyard on which to erect market buildings:

32 & 33 Vict. c. 70.

And whereas the Corporation are proceeding to erect such buildings, and it is expedient that the same should be exempt from the operation of Part I. of the Metropolitan Building Act, 1855:

18 & 19 Vict. c. 122.

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited for all purposes as The Metropolitan Building Act, 1871.

Buildings of New Foreign Cattle Market exempted from Part I. of 18 & 19 Vict. c. 122.

2. The buildings already erected and that may be hereafter erected on the site of Deptford Dockyard for a new cattle market are hereby exempted from Part I. of the Metropolitan Building Act, 1855.
