EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note does not form part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These Regulations, made under the Customs and Excise Act, 1952, regulate the methylation of spirits and govern the supply, storage, removal, sale, delivery, receipt, use and exportation or shipment as stores for ships or aircraft of the different kinds of methylated spirits.

The provisions in regard to industrial methylated spirits (Q grade), which are used in the manufacture of perfume, have not previously appeared in the law. The Regulations in regard to all other kinds of methylated spirits substantially reproduce provisions previously contained in certain sections of the Spirits Act, 1880, the Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1890, the Revenue Act, 1906, and the Finance Act, 1924, which are repealed by the 1952 Act, and in the Methylated Spirits Regulations, 1930, the Methylated Spirits (Amendment) Regulations of 1934 and 1951, and the Power Methylated Spirits (Excise Duty) (No. 2) Regulations, 1938, which these Regulations revoke.
