EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

Section 47(1) of the Road Traffic Act 1962 enacts that where any international agreement to which the United Kingdom is a party provides—

(a) for markings to be applied to motor vehicle parts of any description to indicate conformity with a type approved by any country; and

(b) for motor vehicle parts bearing those markings to be recognised as complying with the requirements imposed by the law of another country

the Minister of Transport may by regulations designate the markings as approval marks. Section 47 also provides, inter alia, that the use of any markings so designated shall be deemed to be a trade description for the purposes of the Merchandise Marks Acts 1887 to 1953 and that it shall be an offence under the 1887 Act to apply an approval mark without proper authority.

These Regulations designate for the purposes of section 47 as an approval mark a marking complying with the provisions of Schedule 1 to these Regulations and in respect of which the International Agreement of 1958 (referred to in the Regulations) and the Regulations specified in Schedule 2 to these Regulations and annexed to that Agreement make such provision as is mentioned in (a) and (b) above. The motor vehicle parts concerned are either a headlight or a lamp for a headlight.
