(a) S.I. 1952/373; 1952 III, p. 3966. (b) S.I. 1952/1301; 1952 III, p. 3983.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These Regulations, by making an addition to the occupations set out in Part II of the First Schedule to the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) (Prescribed Diseases) Regulations, 1948, extend insurance under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act, 1946, against pneumoconiosis to persons employed in boiler scaling.

In addition, they contain transitional provisions relating to persons who have worked in that employment since 5th July, 1948 (when the Act came into force), and who have already died from the disease or are suffering from it on the date when these regulations come into operation. These provisions deal in particular with payment of benefit from that date. They also provide that persons for whom benefit is available under the Pneumoconiosis and Byssinosis Benefit Scheme, 1952, shall not be entitled to benefit under these Regulations.
