NATIONAL SECURITY

The National Security Act 2023 (Designated Bodies) Regulations 2026

Made - - - -	16th July 2026
Coming into force - -	17th July 2026

The Secretary of State makes these Regulations in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A(1), (4) and (6) of the National Security Act 2023(a).

The Secretary of State believes that the bodies designated by regulation 2 of these Regulations are, or have been, involved in foreign power threat activity and considers that designating those bodies is necessary to protect the safety or interests of the United Kingdom(b).

The Secretary of State believes that the body designated by regulation 2(1)(b) of these Regulations is, or has been, operating wholly or partly under more than one name.

In accordance with section 96(5) and (6)(za) of that Act(c), a draft of these Regulations has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament.

Citation, commencement and extent

1.—(1) These Regulations may be cited as the National Security Act 2023 (Designated Bodies) Regulations 2026.

(2) These Regulations come into force on the day after the day on which they are made.

(3) These Regulations extend to England and Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

Part 1 of the National Security Act 2023 (c. 32) ("the Act") makes provision for designated bodies (including offences in relation to such bodies). Section 33A(1) provides that the Secretary of State may, by regulations, designate a body. Section 33A(4) provides that such regulations may amend the Act so as to insert a Schedule listing the bodies designated under section 33A. Section 33A(6) provides that the Secretary of State may include alternative names in the designation of a body if the Secretary of State believes the body is, or has been, operating wholly or partly under more than one name.

Regulation 2(1) designates the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC), the Islamic Movement of Companions of the Right (IMCR) and the Main Intelligence Directorate of the General Staff of the Armed Forces of the Russian Federation Volunteer Corps (GRU VC) for the purposes of Part 1 of the Act.

Regulation 2(2) specifies the alternative names included in the designation of the IMCR at regulation 2(1)(b).

Regulation 2(3) inserts Schedule 6A into the Act. This Schedule lists the designated bodies and alternative names.

A full impact assessment has not been produced for this instrument as no, or no significant, impact on the private, voluntary or public sectors is foreseen.
