of the council of every county, county borough, borough, county district and rural parish comprising the whole or any part of the area to which the byelaws apply, or, in the case of a rural parish not having a separate parish council, to the chairman of the parish meeting of the parish.".

2. For the references in section two hundred and fifty-two of the said Act to a local authority and to the clerk of the authority there shall be substituted references to the Nature Conservancy and to the Director-General of the Nature Conservancy respectively.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

Section 106 of the National Parks and Access to the Countryside Act, 1949, applies the provisions of sections 250 to 252 of the Local Government Act, 1933 (which relate to the procedure for making byelaws, authorise byelaws to impose fines not exceeding £5 and provide for the proof of byelaws in legal proceedings), to byelaws made under the Act of 1949 by, amongst other bodies, the Nature Conservancy, subject in the case of byelaws made by the Nature Conservancy to such adaptations as may be prescribed in regulations made by the Secretary of State. These Regulations make appropriate adaptations accordingly.

1956 No. 1905 (S. 87)

as applied by section 106 of the National Parks and Access to the Countryside Act, 1949 to byelaws made under that Act shall, in relation to byelaws made by the Nature Conservancy under that Act, have effect subject to the adaptations prescribed in the Schedule to these Regulations.

Dated this 28th day of November, 1956.

James Stuart,
One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

St. Andrew's House,
Edinburgh 1.

SCHEDULE

Adaptations of Sections 301, 302 and 303 of the Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1947

(1) For the references in sections 301, 302 and 303 of the Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1947 to a local authority, to the clerk of the authority and to the offices of the local authority by whom the byelaws are made, there shall be substituted references to the Nature Conservancy, to the Director, Scotland, of the Nature Conservancy and to the headquarters offices in Scotland of the Nature Conservancy, respectively.

(2) For subsection (6) of the said section 301 there shall be substituted the following subsection:—

"(6) The Director, Scotland, of the Nature Conservancy shall, at least one month before application for confirmation is made, send a copy of the byelaws to the county clerk of each county, the town clerk of each burgh, and the clerk of the district council of each district, within any part of which the byelaws are to apply, and such county clerk, town clerk or district council clerk, as the case may be, shall cause the copy to be open to public inspection without payment at his office at all reasonable hours for at least one month before application for confirmation is made."

(3) For subsection (14) of the said section 301 there shall be substituted the following subsection:—

"(14) The Director, Scotland, of the Nature Conservancy shall send a copy of the byelaws as confirmed to the county clerk of each county, the town clerk of each burgh, and the clerk of the district council of each district, within any part of which the byelaws apply, and such county clerk, town clerk or district council clerk, as the case may be, shall cause the copy to be open to public inspection without payment at his office at all reasonable hours."

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

Section 106 of the National Parks and Access to the Countryside Act, 1949 applies the provisions of sections 301, 302 and 303 of the Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1947 (which relate to the procedure for making byelaws, the penalties for offences against byelaws, and the evidence of byelaws in legal proceedings) to byelaws made under the Act of 1949 by, among other bodies, the Nature Conservancy, subject in the case of byelaws made by the Nature Conservancy to such adaptations as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State. These Regulations make appropriate adaptations to the provisions of the Act of 1947.
