Part One: Explanation, and context, of the Instrument

4. Overview of the Instrument

What does the legislation do?

4.1 This Order makes provision for the annual increase of official pensions (as defined in the Pensions (Increase) Act of 1971.) This Order provides for an increase of 6.7 per cent from 8 April 2024 for all official pensions, except for those which have been in payment for less than a year, which will receive a pro-rata increase.

Where does the legislation extend to, and apply?

4.2 The extent of this instrument (that is, the jurisdiction(s) which the instrument forms part of the law of) is the United Kingdom.

4.3 The territorial application of this instrument (that is, where the instrument produces a practical effect) is the United Kingdom.

5. Policy Context

What is being done and why?

5.1 To take account of increases in the cost of living, the value of public service pensions in payment, preserved pensions and preserved lump sums are increased annually to maintain their purchasing power. This is done either under statutory provisions, including the annual order, or under separate analogous arrangements.

5.2 The level of increase specified is equal to the percentage specified by the Secretary of State for Work and Pensions for the increase of additional pensions in long-term benefits (including the State Second Pensions) in the annual direction made under section 151 of the Social Security Administration Act 1992 ("the 1992 Act"). This increase is equal to the percentage rise in the Consumer Prices Index ("CPI") in the twelve months to the preceding September. CPI in the twelve months to September 2023 was 6.7 per cent.

5.3 Since 1987 the increase of official pensions has taken effect from the first Monday of the tax year.

What was the previous policy, how is this different?

5.4 This Order does not change the policy towards pension increases. It implements the annual increase of official pensions for the tax year 2024/2025.

6. Legislative and Legal Context

How has the law changed?

6.1 This Order specifies the annual increase that applies to official pensions for the tax year 2024/2025.

6.2 Sections 59 and 59A of the Social Security Pensions Act 1975 ("the 1975 Act") provide that the Minister for the Civil Service shall, by order, provide that the annual rate of an official pension may be increased by the same percentage as that specified in the annual direction given by the Secretary of State for Work and Pensions pursuant to section 151 of the 1992 Act. The Minister's enabling power was transferred to HM Treasury by virtue of the Transfer of Functions (Minister for the Civil Service and Treasury) Order 1981 (S.I. 1981/1670).

6.3 The increase specified is the percentage (or fraction of the percentage) by which the Secretary of State for Work and Pensions has, by direction under the provisions of section 151(1) of the 1992 Act, increased the sums referred to in section 150(1)(c) of that Act. These are the additional pension entitlements accruing to employees in respect of earnings for service after 5 April 1978, the date when the additional state pension was introduced.

6.4 Under section 59(7) of the 1975 Act, sections 59 and 59A of that Act have effects as if they were contained in the Pensions (Increase) Act ("the 1971 Act"). The 1971 Act defined certain terms: section 8(2), read with sections 8(2A) and 8A, provide for when a pension "begins" for the purposes of the Act, and section 9 makes provision as to lump sums.

Why was this approach taken to change the law?

6.5 This is the only possible approach to make the necessary changes.

7. Consultation

Summary of consultation outcome and methodology

7.1 This instrument is an annual instrument that prescribes figures as required by legislation. It does not require a consultation exercise.

8. Applicable Guidance

8.1 Guidance documents on the HM Treasury public website have been updated to reflect the new rates: https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/public-service-pensions-increases.

Part Two: Impact and the Better Regulation Framework

9. Impact Assessment

9.1 A full Impact Assessment has not been prepared for this instrument because of the lack of impact on business.

Impact on businesses, charities and voluntary bodies

9.2 There is no, or no significant, impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies because this legislation does not increase the costs of activities that are undertaken by business, charities or voluntary bodies.

9.3 The legislation does not impact small or micro businesses.

9.4 The impact on the public sector is an increase in cash payments to pensioners across public service pension schemes. Public service pension schemes use forecast September CPI assumptions to factor in the uprating of public service pensions provided by annual Pensions Increase (Review) Orders. The cost impact of price increases is accounted for in forecasts of departmental spending used for the Budget, and in Central Government Supply Estimates.

10. Monitoring and review

What is the approach to monitoring and reviewing this legislation?

10.1 This is an annual order. The approach to monitoring this legislation is that the Government will respond to any issues arising as part of this instrument's operation as required.

10.2 The instrument does not include a statutory review clause.

Part Three: Statements and Matters of Particular Interest to Parliament

11. Matters of special interest to Parliament

11.1 This Order references the Social Security Benefits Uprating Order 2024 as outlined in paragraph 6.3 and must be made after that Order.

12. European Convention on Human Rights

12.1 The Chief Secretary to the Treasury has made the following statement regarding Human Rights:

"In my view the provisions of the Pensions Increase (Review) Order 2024 are compatible with the Convention rights."

13. The Relevant European Union Acts

13.1 This instrument is not made under the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018, the European Union (Future Relationship) Act 2020 or the Retained EU Law (Revocation and Reform) Act 2023 ("relevant European Union Acts").
