POLICE

The Police (Scotland) Amendment Regulations, 1962

Made - - - -	6th April, 1962
Laid before Parliament	27th April, 1962
Coming into Operation	30th April, 1962

In exercise of the powers conferred on me by section 11 of the Police (Scotland) Act, 1956(a), and of all other powers enabling me in that behalf, and no representations having been made to me in pursuance of subsection (6) of the said section 11, I hereby make the following regulations :—

1. These regulations may be cited as the Police (Scotland) Amendment Regulations, 1962, and shall come into operation on the 30th day of April, 1962.

2. The Police (Scotland) Regulations, 1956(b), as amended, shall have effect subject to the amendment specified in the Schedule to these regulations.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1962.

John S. Maclay,
One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

St. Andrew's House,
Edinburgh, 1.

SCHEDULE

In Regulation 26 of the Police (Scotland) Regulations, 1956 (which relates to overtime)—

(a) at the end of paragraph (3) there shall be added the following sub-paragraph:—

"(f) no account shall be taken of casual overtime except as authorised by paragraph (3A) of this regulation."

(b) after the said paragraph (3) there shall be inserted the following paragraph:—

"(3A) A member shall for any period of not less than two units of casual overtime be granted, if and as soon as the exigencies of duty in the opinion of the chief constable permit, time off of twenty minutes for each such unit if in any fortnight the aggregate number of units of casual overtime, excluding any period of less than two units, is not less than twelve."

(c) at the end of paragraph (4) there shall be added the following:—

"the expression 'casual overtime' means a period of overtime of less than four units during which a member remains on duty after his tour of duty ends, other than a period in respect of which the member was informed at the commencement of his tour that he would be required to remain on duty after his tour ended;

"the expression 'fortnight' means that period of fourteen days beginning with such day as is fixed by the chief constable."

(a) 4 & 5 Eliz. 2. c. 26. (b) S.I. 1956/1999 (1956 II, p. 1766).

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These regulations amend Regulation 26 of the Police (Scotland) Regulations, 1956 (which relates to the compensation of certain members of police forces below the rank of superintendent for overtime) so as to provide that no allowance shall be paid for casual overtime and time off for casual overtime shall only be granted if in any fortnight the aggregate of casual overtime (excluding any period of less than thirty minutes) is not less than three hours. Time off is calculated at the rate of time and one third. Casual overtime means a period of overtime of less than one hour during which a member remains on duty after his tour of duty ends, other than a period in respect of which the member was informed at the commencement of his tour that he would be required to remain on duty after his tour ended.
