EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These regulations revoke the existing Training of Teachers Grant Regulations and replace them by provisions applicable to training colleges, and other establishments providing training for teachers, not maintained by local education authorities. The Minister's requirements in relation to training colleges and other institutions maintained by local education authorities are contained in the Training of Teachers (Local Education Authorities) Regulations, 1959, and many of those requirements are applied by these regulations to the establishments covered by them.

These regulations contain only minor changes, the chief being that the Minister may name courses to be instituted, or discontinued as the case may be, at a training college or centre (regulation 9); and more specific provision is made in relation to accounts and returns (regulation 15).
