EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order.)

This Order amends the document setting out the scales and other provisions for determining the remuneration of teachers in primary and secondary schools maintained by local education authorities and certain other teachers employed by such authorities. The amendments in Schedule 1, which have retrospective effect from 1st April 1981, increase the additional allowances payable to full-time teachers serving in and around Greater London. The amendments in Schedule 2, which have effect from 1st September 1981, increase the number of teachers at certain large schools who may be remunerated as deputy head teachers, and modify the conditions under which teachers who have taught at Social Priority Schools and Schools of Exceptional Difficulty are entitled to special allowances. They also modify the procedure for determining the initial salary payable to teachers reappointed after a break in service, and provide for incremental credit to be given to teachers who have completed certain part-time training courses.

Retrospective effect is authorised by section 7(3) of the Remuneration of Teachers Act 1965.
