CHAPTER xi

An Act to change the name of the Royal Warehousemen Clerks and Drapers' Schools, and for other purposes.

[18th April, 1962.]

WHEREAS in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-three the institution called "The Warehousemen and Clerks' Schools for orphan and necessitous Children" (hereinafter referred to as "the former Institution") was formed for the purpose of clothing, maintaining and educating orphan and necessitous children of warehousemen and clerks (including the agents of manufacturers) who had been engaged in manufactories or wholesale warehouses within the United Kingdom in any wholesale trade:

And whereas the former Institution was prior to the year eighteen hundred and eighty-six governed by rules or laws of which certain rules were declared to be fundamental laws beyond the control of any future general or other meeting of the former Institution or of any act of incorporation or other power to abrogate, suspend, correct or amend:

And whereas in pursuance of powers conferred by the Warehousemen's and Clerks' Schools Act, 1886 and the Warehousemen Clerks and Drapers' Schools Act, 1895 the name of the former Institution was altered to "The Warehousemen Clerks and Drapers' Schools" and the fundamental rules of the former Institution were altered in other respects as thereby authorised:

And whereas it had been the privilege of the former Institution for a number of years to carry on its activities under royal patronage and the Counsellors of State, in the exercise of the powers delegated to them by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty by letters patent, were in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-three pleased to approve on behalf of Her Majesty the inclusion of the prefix "Royal" in the name of the former Institution:

And whereas by the Royal Warehousemen Clerks and Drapers' Schools Act, 1954 the persons who immediately before the passing of that Act were described by the rules of the former Institution as subscribers to and associates of the former Institution, and all such other persons as should thereafter become members of the Institution incorporated by that Act, were incorporated by the name of " the Royal Warehousemen Clerks and Drapers' Schools " (hereinafter referred to as " the existing Institution ") for the objects of clothing, maintaining and educating (with or without payment, as the board of management of the existing Institution might in each case determine)—

(a) orphan and necessitous children of warehousemen and clerks and drapers;

(b) necessitous children (not being orphans) of warehousemen and clerks and drapers; and

(c) subject to certain limitations, children of warehousemen and clerks and drapers whose circumstances are such that in the opinion of the said board of management they are proper persons to be assisted by the existing Institution, and the said Acts of 1886 and 1895 were repealed:

And whereas the existing Institution carries on a school at Addington in the county of Surrey known as Russell School:

And whereas the former Institution was, and the existing Institution has been and is, carried on by the donations and subscriptions of subscribers to the Institutions and others who sympathise with their respective objects:

And whereas it has continued to be the privilege of the existing Institution to carry on its activities under royal patronage and Her Majesty has been pleased to approve the use by the existing Institution of the name " the Royal Russell School ":

And whereas it is expedient that the statutory name of the existing Institution should be changed to " the Royal Russell School " and that the other provisions of this Act should be enacted:

And whereas the objects of this Act cannot be effected without the authority of Parliament:

May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted, by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—
