EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Scheme, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

The Agriculture (Silo Subsidies) Act, 1956, authorises the making of schemes for the payment of subsidies in respect of the carrying out of works for the construction or improvement of silos for the making and containing of silage. This scheme made by the Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food applies to England and Wales and Northern Ireland and makes provisions for the payment of subsidies at the rates set out in the schedule to the scheme in respect of specified works of construction or improvement. The scheme requires that any works shall be approved by the Minister and that the silos shall be able to contain at least 20 tons of silage or 50 tons in the case of a tower silo and that their construction shall conform with the requirements of good farming practice. It limits the amount which may be paid in subsidy in respect of works on any one farm to £250, of which sum not more than £125 may be paid in respect of the construction of new unroofed silos. It also limits the amounts which may be paid in respect of certain works of improvement to existing silos and contains provisions relating to the obtaining of the Minister's approval of the works and other incidental matters.

Made - - - - 26th February, 1957

In exercise of the powers conferred on me by subsection (1) of section 1 of the Agriculture (Silo Subsidies) Act, 1956(a), and of all other powers enabling me in that behalf, with the approval of the Treasury, I, being the appropriate Minister in relation to a scheme under the said section 1 for Scotland, hereby make the following scheme, a draft of which has been laid before Parliament and has been approved by resolution of each House of Parliament.

1. This scheme may be cited as the Silo Subsidies (Scotland) Scheme, 1957.

2.—(1) The Interpretation Act, 1889(b), applies to the interpretation of this scheme as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) In this scheme, unless the context otherwise requires, the following expressions have the meanings hereby respectively assigned to them, that is to say :—

" agricultural unit " has the meaning assigned to it by subsection (2) of section 86 of the Agriculture (Scotland) Act, 1948(c),

" silo " means a pit, clamp, trench or tower for the making of silage from grass or fodder crops and for the containing of silage so made.

(a) 5 & 6 Eliz. 2. c. 5. (b) 52 & 53 Vict. c. 63. (c) 11 & 12 Geo. 6. c. 45.

3. Subject to the provisions of this scheme, where any works for the construction or improvement of a silo, being works of a kind and description specified in the schedule to this scheme, are or have been approved by the Secretary of State within a period commencing on 19th November, 1956, and ending on 31st July, 1959, the Secretary of State may pay in respect of the carrying out of any of the works so approved to any person to whom payments may be made under this scheme subsidies at the rates specified in the Schedule to this scheme in relation to works of the kind and description so carried out.

4. Payment of subsidy may be made under this scheme in respect of any works to any person having an interest in the agricultural unit for the benefit of which the works were carried out who undertook the responsibility for carrying them out.

5. The aggregate amount of the payments which may be made under this scheme in respect of all works carried out thereunder on any one agricultural unit shall not exceed £250, of which sum not more than the amount set out below in the first column shall be paid in respect of works specified in relation to that amount in the second column :—

Amount	Works
£250	Works in connection with the construction of a new roofed silo or silos
£125	Works in connection with the construction of a new silo or silos being either unroofed or built under an existing roof
	Works in connection with the improvement of a silo or silos, being works lettered in the schedule to this scheme—
£125	A to F
£125	G to K

6. Where a payment out of monies provided by Parliament under any enactment other than an enactment contained in the Agriculture (Silo Subsidies) Act, 1956, is available in respect of works carried out by a person for which a subsidy may be paid under this scheme, the Secretary of State may take into consideration the amount available by virtue of that other enactment, and may reduce the amount payable to that person in respect of those works under this scheme accordingly.

7. No works for the construction or improvement of a silo on any agricultural unit shall be approved by the Secretary of State unless he is satisfied that the works will provide a suitable silo for the unit, that the construction or improvement of a silo on that unit will be in accordance with the requirements of good farming practice, and that efficient use is likely to be made of the silo.

8. No works shall be approved for the purpose of this scheme in connection with the construction or improvement of a silo unless the silo after construction or improvement will be capable of containing in the case of a tower silo at least fifty tons of silage and for any other kind of silo at least twenty tons of silage.

9. It shall be a condition of the making of a payment to any person under this scheme that that person—

(a) shall apply in writing, in such form and at such time as the Secretary of State may require, for the approval by the Secretary of State of any works he may propose to carry out;
