"(3) A State Scholar must follow an approved course as a member or student of an Institution approved in advance for that member or student: provided that if the Minister determines that the special circumstances of the case so require, he may allow the scholar—

(2) Where a State Scholar incurs additional costs of maintenance owing to the extension of the period of his attendance in any academic year or to his taking, either in England or Wales or elsewhere, an approved vacation course, connected with his approved course, the Minister may make a grant not exceeding £36 a year in respect of such aditional costs."; and

(b) the reference therein to any scholarship or exhibition held by a student shall include a reference to the University Award held by the applicant; and

(c) in awarding any benefit under this Regulation, the Minister shall have regard to the applicant's need of financial assistance in order to follow his course of study.

(4) Any benefit awarded to a student under this Regulation shall be tenable for the period of tenure of the University Award held by him or, if the Minister thinks that there are special circumstances affecting the student, for such longer period as the Minister thinks fit."

Given under the Official Seal of the Minister of Education this 19th day of July, 1949.

(L.S.)

Geo. Tomlinson,
Minister of Education.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

The principal changes which these amendments are designed to cover are an increase in the number of State Scholarships from 800 to 900, the inclusion in the standard figure of a student's maintenance of a maintenance allowance during vacations, and the grant of £30 a year irrespective of the means of the parent. They also provide for the extension of a University Supplemental Award where the qualifying Open Award does not cover the full period of the student's course of study.

The changes in the Regulations are shown in heavier type.
