unless, in either case, in the opinion of the benefit officer it is in the overriding interests of the assessment unit that paragraph (1) should apply.

(6) Where any determination is made in respect of a beneficiary under paragraph (1) before 21st November 1983 and—

(a) in consequence of that determination an amount is, in the benefit week immediately preceding that date, deductible under the preceding paragraphs;

(b) any debt mentioned in paragraph (1)(a) in respect of which that determination was made has not been discharged on or before that date;

(ii) in any other case, by 10 pence or more; and

(d) on that date regulation 9 of the Housing Benefits Regulations (certificated cases) applies to him,

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations.)

These regulations amend regulations made under the Supplementary Benefits (Northern Ireland) Order 1977 (''the 1977 Order'') (as amended by the Social Security (Northern Ireland) Order 1980) in consequence of the coming into operation of the Housing Benefits Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1983, made under Article 3 of the Housing Benefits (Northern Ireland) Order 1983. They substitute references to provisions of those regulations and that Order for references replaced thereby, and substitute or extend references to items for which provision is now made in those regulations for references to items formerly within the category of housing requirements.

Regulation 2 amends the Supplementary Benefit (Claims and Payments) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1981. In cases where an amount of ''housing benefit supplement'' has been applicable in the determination of requirements (it applies where resources are sufficient to meet requirements under the 1977 Order but there is entitlement to housing benefit) provision is made for a claim for supplementary benefit to be treated as backdated for up to 6 days, for requiring a recipient of housing benefit to report changes of circumstances affecting his entitlement to supplementary benefit to the Northern Ireland Housing Executive or the Department of the Environment (as appropriate) rather than to the Department and for the payment, in some cases, of housing benefit supplement to those bodies. Provision is made for the exclusion of payments of minimum amounts of benefit not to apply in certain circumstances. Provision is also made for payments of supplementary benefit to be made in certain circumstances directly in respect of amenity charges, rent, rates, rent and rates arrears, mortgage interest payments and any other miscellaneous housing costs.

Regulation 3 amends the Supplementary Benefit (Determination of Questions) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1980. In particular provision is made, where an amount of housing benefit supplement is applicable, for the day from which entitlement to, and changes in the amount of, supplementary benefit takes effect to be determined having regard to the days on which housing benefits are payable.

Regulation 4 amends the Supplementary Benefit (Single Payments) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1981. The circumstances in which a single payment is awarded for removal expenses are extended so as to include a claimant whose housing benefit in respect of his old home is restricted for the purposes of housing benefit because the accommodation is unsuitable. The provisions under which a single payment is payable in respect of housing requirements for discharged prisoners are amended so that they apply only to housing requirements under the 1977 Order. Provision is also made so that a single payment is payable where a family moves into accommodation and rent is payable in advance (comparable provision was formerly made by way of housing requirements). The circumstances in which a single payment is payable for an item for which provision is made in weekly supplementary benefit where money set aside for that item has been spent on an item for which a single payment would have been granted is extended to items covered by housing benefit.

Regulation 5 amends the Supplementary Benefit (Trade Disputes and Recovery from Earnings) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1980 in so far as they provide for the calculation of the earnings from which recovery of supplementary benefit paid to a person returning to work after a trade dispute cannot be made (''protected earnings''); amendment is made so that protected earnings are calculated by reference to the claimant's normal requirements (as now) and, instead of housing requirements in all cases, to his rent where he is liable to pay it, and otherwise to housing requirements. Also included is a transitional provision to allow for calculation of protected earnings where the period in respect of which recovery is made straddles the date of coming into operation of the amendment.

Regulation 6 amends the Supplementary Benefit (Urgent Cases) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1981 in relation to a person whose home is sub-let and it is not possible to ascertain his resources in respect of that activity until his housing benefit has been assessed. Provision is made for the assessment of entitlement in the usual way (so that the modifications made for urgent cases in those regulations do not apply) but taking into account specified sums in relation to each sub-tenant; if after that assessment the claimant's requirements do not exceed his resources provision is made for a nominal amount of supplementary benefit to be payable. The claimant will be entitled to housing benefit as a certificated case, but where only the nominal amount is payable by amendment in regulation 5 the claimant will not be entitled to single payments for the first 14 days of entitlement to the nominal amount.
