EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These Regulations revoke the rentals for telephone installations and most of the other charges related to equipment or apparatus which are payable under the Telephone Regulations 1951, and in place of them fix increased rentals and charges. The new rentals and charges specified are the actual amounts (or in some cases the maximum amounts) payable, and not, as under the 1951 Regulations, basic amounts with percentage additions.

The only changes relating to call charges are as follows:

(a) The free local call allowance to residence rate subscribers is reduced from 12s. 6d. to 6s. 3d. a half year.

(b) The maximum additional charge for local calls to business (small user) rate subscribers is raised from 13s. 9d. a half year (the difference between the present half-yearly " business " and " business (small user) " rentals) to £1 a half year (the corresponding difference between the new rentals).
