EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These Regulations amend the Regulations for the Preliminary Education, Training, and Certification of Teachers for Various Grades of Schools (Scotland), 1931.

Regulation 1 re-defines, in terms of the Scottish Certificate of Education, which is to be introduced in 1962, and in terms of the General Certificate of Education, the standard of general education required for admission to training for the Teacher's General Certificate (a) before session 1964-65 and (b) in and after that session and makes minor consequential alterations in the requirements.

Regulation 2 gives permanent effect to the change from 1st April, 1960, to 1st January, 1960, made by Provisional Regulations in the date with effect from which certain teachers with third class honours degrees could be awarded an endorsement of special qualification to teach their special subject in secondary schools.

Regulation 3 makes the changes necessary to apply the re-defined standard of general education to candidates seeking admission to training for the Teacher's Technical Certificate.
