EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

This Order relaxes the existing restrictions on the supply and the use of cotton, rayon and linen utility upholstery cloth. These are temporary relaxations and will cease to have effect after the 7th February, 1949, and the 7th May, 1949, respectively. It also provides that the supply of such upholstery cloth by, or for, export shall be free from price control during the period commencing with the 8th November, 1948, and ending with the 7th May, 1949.

PART III

1. In relation to a raincoat of a description mentioned in the following table the appropriate maxima specified in Part I hereof shall, in the case of such a garment being made to measure, be deemed to be increased by the appropriate amount set out below in relation to the garment:—

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

This Order replaces the current Order on gaberdine raincoats.

It provides that the manufacturers' maximum prices are maximum cash prices only, instead of " cost plus " with overriding maximum prices as heretofore.

The maximum cash prices for gaberdine raincoats made from unsubsidized cotton cloths (i.e. cloths of a specification number preceded by the letter " X ") and from wool cloths are higher than the previous overriding maxima for such garments.

Boys' Trenchcoats and Infants' and Girls' Raincoats are now described in the Schedule as Children's School Trenchcoats.
