SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO INTERVALS FOR REST

10. Where an employer does not allow to a worker between the time of finishing duty on any day and the time of commencing the next following turn of duty an interval for rest of

(a) in the case of a worker who is supplied by his employer with full board and lodging, not less than 8 consecutive hours;

(b) in the case of any other worker, not less than 9 consecutive hours;

the worker shall be paid for all time worked by him which reduces the said interval for rest the minimum remuneration to which he is entitled under the other provisions of this Part of this Schedule with an addition for all such time at the rate of double time (as defined in paragraph 32 of this Schedule), provided that the interval for rest shall not be regarded as having been reduced by reason solely of the fact that the worker has performed emergency duty (as defined in paragraph 34 of this Schedule).

LATE ENTRANT WAITERS

11.—(1) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, where a waiter has had less than 12 months' experience as a waiter in the catering trade, he shall be paid as follows:—

WORKERS TEMPORARILY TRANSFERRED TO HIGHER GRADE WORK

12. Where a worker is required temporarily to perform the duties of a worker entitled to a higher minimum remuneration than himself for a period of more than—

(i) two hours in a day or seven hours in a week, in the case of a worker who is employed in a licensed residential establishment which contains not more than 35 rooms ordinarily available as sleeping accommodation for guests or lodgers, or

(a) 11 & 12 Geo. 6. c. 38.

(ii) two hours in any week in the case of a worker other than a worker specified in (i) above, he shall be paid for the time so worked not less than the minimum remuneration he would have been entitled to had he been a worker of that higher grade.

Provided that the foregoing provision shall not apply in respect of time spent in relieving—

(a) any worker who is absent by reason of the fact that it is his weekly day of rest;

(b) for a period not exceeding 12 working days in any 12 months, any worker absent from work with the consent of the employer, but in receipt of not less than the statutory minimum remuneration.

BASIS OF REMUNERATION

13.—(1) Subject to the provisions of paragraph 14 (which relates to guaranteed remuneration) the weekly rates specified in this Part of this Schedule relate to a week of 48 hours and are subject to a proportionate increase or reduction according as the number of hours worked not being overtime is more or less than 48.

(2) In calculating the remuneration for the purpose of this Schedule recognised breaks for mealtimes shall be excluded.

GUARANTEED REMUNERATION

14.—A (1) This paragraph applies to workers who ordinarily work for the employer on work to which this Schedule applies for not less than 36 hours in a week or, in the case of a fortnightly worker (as defined in paragraph 34) for not less than 72 hours in a fortnight.

(2) Notwithstanding the other paragraphs of this Part of this Schedule, where in respect of any week or fortnight as the case may be, the total remuneration payable to a worker—

(a) under those other paragraphs; and

(b) by way of holiday remuneration under a wages regulation order is less than the guaranteed remuneration provided under this paragraph, the minimum remuneration payable to that worker for that week or fortnight shall be that guaranteed remuneration.

B (1) The guaranteed remuneration payable in respect of any week to a worker to whom sub-paragraph C does not apply

(a) who normally works for the employer for not less than 48 hours in a week on work to which this Schedule applies, is the remuneration to which he would be entitled under paragraph 2 or paragraph 3 of this Schedule for 48 hours work in his normal occupation;

(b) who normally works for the employer for more than 44 hours in a week but for less than 48 hours on work to which this Schedule applies, is the remuneration to which he would be entitled under paragraph 2 or paragraph 3 of this Schedule (calculated as in paragraph 13 of this Schedule) in respect of the number of hours normally worked by him in a week;

(c) who normally works for the employer for 44 hours or less in a week, is the remuneration to which he would be entitled under paragraph 2 or paragraph 3 of this Schedule (calculated as in paragraph 13 of this Schedule) for 44 hours in a week.

Provided that where the worker normally works for the employer on work to which this Schedule applies for less than 44 hours in a week by reason only of the fact that he does not hold himself out as normally available for work for more than the number of hours he normally works in the week, and the worker has informed his employer in writing that he does not so hold himself out, the guaranteed remuneration shall be the remuneration calculated as in paragraph 13 of this Schedule for the number of hours in the week normally worked by the worker for the employer on work to which this Schedule applies.

(2) Guaranteed remuneration is not payable in respect of any week unless the worker throughout his normal working hours in that week (excluding any time allowed to him as a holiday) is

(a) capable of and available for work ; and
