Transitional provisions

3.—(1) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (2) of this Article, where an allowance has been awarded to a person under the principal Scheme before 27th May 1963 at the weekly rate of 50 shillings less the amount of his workmen's compensation, or of 10 shillings, or of 2 shillings and 6 pence, the allowance shall, as from that day and without any claim being made therefor, become payable at the weekly rate of 70 shillings less the amount of his workmen's compensation, or of 30 shillings, or of 7 shillings and 6 pence as the case may be, and the award shall have effect accordingly.

(2) Where a question arises as to the amount by which the weekly rate of allowance awarded to a person under the principal Scheme before 27th May 1963, falls to be increased by virtue of this Scheme, the allowance shall continue to be payable at the weekly rate specified in the award until the said question shall have been determined in accordance with the provisions of the principal Scheme.

(3) Where an award of an allowance is made under the principal Scheme before 27th May 1963, the award may provide for the allowance to be paid, as from that day, at any higher rate payable by virtue of this Scheme.

Niall Macpherson,
Minister of Pensions and National Insurance.

21st March 1963.

We consent.

John Peel,
G. T. C. Campbell,
Two of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Scheme, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

This Scheme amends the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation (Supplementation) Scheme 1951, in consequence of the National Insurance Act 1963, to improve the allowances payable out of the Industrial Injuries Fund in respect of injury or disease arising out of employment before 5th July 1948, when the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act 1946 came into force. It does not apply to persons entitled to the allowances for total incapacity or disablement provided by the Workmen's Compensation and Benefit (Supplementation) Act 1956, the rates of these having been increased by the 1963 Act. The Scheme also contains transitional provisions.
